

Social housing/housing entitlement certificate (WBS)

What is social housing?

- Social housing is housing for people with little money. Many people would like to move into these flats. That is why there are special regulations.
- It sometimes takes several years before you get a council flat.

 Important: Only complete the application form for social housing in full.

I would like social housing. What do I have to do?

- You apply for the pre-registration certificate at the Housing and Foundation Office.
- The office will check whether you are entitled to social housing.
- The office will determine your personal urgency level.

The social urgency is represented by the sum of the following points ranges:

- Priority points (e.g. 5 points for pregnant women)
- Basic points according to the social weight of the need (maximum 30 points)
- Attendance points (maximum 25 points; 1 point per year in Augsburg)

You can achieve a maximum of 60 points
