

Further education

Adult Education

In Germany there are many opportunities to continue one's education after school via the "second educational path". You can obtain general qualifications or school-leaving certificates. There are daytime or evening courses, but also lessons from home (for example at a distance learning university).

Evening Schools ("Abendschulen")

An evening school is a school for adults. In these schools, people can retake certain leaving certificates such as "Realschulabschluss" or "Abitur". Attending classes is also possible for working people since classes take place in the evening or on weekends.

Part-time study

There are some extra-occupational study courses in Germany. A correspondence course offers the possibility to study in a flexible way in terms of space and time. This is an advantage if you have a job on the side.
