Counselling and support

Here you will find all counselling centres in Fürth and the district of Fürth.

What is an advice centre?

You can go to a counselling centre if you have questions or problems. There you will receive professional support and advice from trained staff.

Counselling is free of charge. The staff are bound to confidentiality. This means that they are not allowed to pass on any information if you do not want them to. Counselling is often also available anonymously. This means that you do not need to give your name.

You can ask if the staff speak a language other than German and English. You can also take a language helper with you.

In some counselling centres, you must make an appointment for a consultation. You can do this in advance by telephone.

If you cannot immediately find the right advice centre, ask! The counselling centres usually know each other and can direct you to the right address.

You can find health counselling centres here.

Counselling for adults with a migration background (aged 27 and over)

The migration counselling service can help you. It supports all people who come from another country. You must be over 27 years old and have a residence permit. Or you are an EU citizen and therefore authorised to live in Germany. Counselling is free of charge.

You will receive help on these topics:

- Looking for work
- Training and further education
- Vocational orientation and job applications
- Living in Germany
- Language courses
- Immigration law
- Authorities and offices
- Conflicts and disputes

Counselling for refugees with disabilities

Digital and accessible brochures with information in several languages

Are you a refugee with a disability? Or do you have relatives who have fled and have a disability? There are six brochures. They contain a lot of information and are available in nine languages. The brochures provide information about the support systems, benefit entitlements and your rights.

Initial and orientation counselling for refugees with a disability

Crossroads supports refugees with disabilities and their relatives throughout Germany. They offer initial and orientation counselling. The counselling is free of charge and takes place over the phone. They answer basic questions about the support system for refugees with a disability. For example, on access to state aid, residence or asylum, language acquisition, education and employment. They help them to find suitable counselling and support services that are close to their place of residence. They are accompanied until a suitable connection has been made. Information on the referral counselling service and how to contact it in 9 languages can be found on the Crossroads website.

Who can support me in everyday life?

There are people who support you on a voluntary basis. They help if you have questions. Or if you need help. They do not ask for payment. For example:

- to help you find your way around your neighbourhood
- to practise the German language
- to answer questions about everyday life and society
- to accompany you to an authority or office
- if you do not understand a letter in German
- if you want to know where you can go shopping at a favourable price
- if you want to know where you can do sports at a reasonable price
- if you want to know how the bus or underground works

You can contact the volunteers via the volunteer centre or via the helper groups.

How can I support others? Volunteering

Become active as a volunteer

Many people in Germany do voluntary work.

What is voluntary work? Volunteering is always voluntary and you don't get paid for it. All volunteers decide for themselves how much time they want to spend on this work. Many people volunteer because they enjoy helping others. And because they get to meet new people through their voluntary work.

There are many ways to volunteer. For example, you can

- help older people
- help look after children
- work as a sports coach at a sports club
- support people with disabilities
- Work as a paramedic
- Helping refugees
- help at an animal shelter (animals are also happy to receive support!)
- and many other things

Would you like to volunteer yourself?

There are contact points in the city and district of Fürth for anyone who wants to volunteer and is looking for meaningful work. Here you will be given specific tasks. (See below for contacts to organisations, groups or associations looking for volunteers).

Here are a few projects you can work on, for example:

- Language support programmes
- Involvement in primary schools and daycare centres
- Open meetings for migrants and locals
- Public relations work
- Help with bureaucracy when moving into a new home
- Support for senior citizens
- Projects for women, parents and families
- And many other projects in the area of asylum

You can also contribute and realise your own ideas!

Neighbourhood management in the Landkreis Fürth Cadolzburg, Oberasbach, Stein

You can find the contacts here.

You can also find various volunteering opportunities in the district of Fürth here. If you would like to become a volunteer, you can also contact the Integration Coordination Centre.

If you need support yourself, you can also find contacts here.

Advice on labour and social law issues

Are you not being treated fairly at work or during your training? That doesn't have to be the case.

There are 2 counselling centres for you.

The counselling centres are called

- Fair Mobility
- Fair integration

The advice centres will help you. You can then defend yourself.

For example, against exploitation or discrimination at work.

You need to know your rights. Then you can make use of your rights.

You can find information in several languages here.

Advice is available on these topics:

- Employment, training or internship contracts
- open-ended and fixed-term contracts
- temporary work
- mini job
- working hours
- Wages and continued payment of wages
- Termination
- Illness and accidents at work
- Holidays
- Trade unions
- Pseudo self-employment
- Social insurance (health insurance, long-term care insurance, pension insurance, unemployment insurance, benefits from the employment agency and job centre)

Do you have problems at work? Or do you have problems with your training or internship? Then we can advise you. The counselling costs nothing. And the counselling is secret. We will help you. It doesn't matter

- how long you are allowed to stay in Germany
- whether you are a member of a trade union.

We will advise you in person, on the phone or by e-mail.

The counsellors will show you possible solutions.
You can then decide for yourself which path you would like to take.

You will only receive out-of-court counselling.
You will receive information on labour law representation in court proceedings.
In other words: Who can represent you in court?
Trade unions or specialised lawyers can do this.

Local networks

What is a network? Different people work together in a network. It connects people who live in a certain place. For example, in a neighbourhood or in a village. Many of them work voluntarily and in their free time. They do this because they think it is important to stand up for all people. Or because a certain cause is very important to them. Networking means, for example, getting to know other people. Talking to each other. And supporting each other. Often you will also find offers and events there.

Neighbourhood networks

The coordinated neighbourhood networks in Fürth exist in 6 districts. They offer local help. You can go there if you have any questions. Or if you want to get to know people from the neighbourhood. You can go there if there is a dispute in the neighbourhood. You can find more information here.

Office for Migration and Diversity and Integration Advisory Board (City of Fürth)

The Office for Migration and Diversity is tasked with promoting the integration of migrants. The office is the point of contact for politicians, citizens and specialised services. This means, for example:

- We set up and support working groups and committees.
- We organise events.
- We work together with Fürth's counselling services and offices.
- We work together with migrant self-organisations and associations.

We bring all these groups together. We work together. So that everyone is better off.

The Office for Migration and Diversity also includes the Integration Advisory Council. The Integration Advisory Council represents the rights and interests of all migrants in the city of Fürth.

The integration advisory board

- brings the wishes and concerns of migrants to the attention of municipal committees and the public,
- advises politicians on the topic of integration,
- networks, for example with the Fürth Alliance against Right-Wing Extremism and Racism, the Council for the Disabled, Fürther Tafel e.V., the Seniors' Council, the Fürth Migration Network and many more.

The integration advisory board is elected.

All people with a history of migration can stand for election.

Integration Coordination Centre (District of Fürth)

The Integration Coordination Centre in the district of Fürth helps people who come from other countries to feel at home here and get along well. It is there for all topics relating to migration and integration. It takes care of co-operation on these topics and does public relations work.

- It implements the integration concept for the district of Fürth.
- It supports people who volunteer in the field of integration.
- It forms and supports working groups and committees.
- It organises events where people can exchange ideas and information (e.g. integration round tables, volunteer meetings).
- It works together with people who are involved in society, educational institutions, advice centres and authorities.
- It collects information on how people can live well here. For example, how can you learn German? What projects are there?
- It works together with organisations of people who have moved to Germany from another country.

The integration officers and integration guides work in the Integration Coordination Centre.
