

Culture and leisure

There are many ways to spend your leisure time in the Mettmann district.

For example, you can attend cultural events. You can also take courses at the adult education centre or do sport.

Many cultural activities cost money. For example, you have to pay admission to the cinema, theatre or museums.

But there are also free activities. These are offered by various organisations.

If you would like to get to know the Mettmann district, the neanderland.de website offers many tips for excursions and events in the region.

You can find local offers here:

Velbert

Music programme

Integrationshilfe Langenberg e.V.

The IHLA COMBO was founded in 2017. It is an integrative and international music project of the IHLA.

Today, 25 children, young people and adults from eight countries are part of the group, including people from Germany. Many of the participants came to Velbert as refugees in 2015. Some of these refugees came with their families, others came alone.

The IHLA COMBO began as a small drumming group. Within a year, it grew into a group with 20 musicians and many different instruments.

The group has participants from eight countries. Singing is now also part of the group to expand the diversity of the music.

The aim of the project is to offer children and young people a free space in which they can feel music and express their feelings.

The participants bring songs from their home country and present their culture. In this way, everyone learns from each other and discovers new music.
