

Clubs

Clubs are very important in Germany. They give people the opportunity to work towards shared goals. People with the same interests come together in clubs to do something together. There are clubs for every type of sport, for cultural topics and for social, societal and political topics. There are around 250 clubs in Landau. If you are a newcomer to Landau, you can meet people who share your interests by joining a club. Information about clubs in Landau can be found on the Engagement-Landau website.
