

Further education

In Germany, there are many opportunities to continue your education after school via the "second educational pathway". You can acquire general qualifications or school-leaving qualifications. There are day courses or evening classes, but also classes from home (for example at a distance learning university).

More information can be found at Continuing education in Baden-Württemberg or the Continuing Education Guide.

If you are entitled to an education voucher from the Employment Agency or the Job Centre, you can search for the right education offer on the following portal.

vhs Landkreis Konstanz e.V.

The vhs Landkreis Konstanz e.V. offers continuing education and lifelong learning.

The programme consists of lectures, courses, weekend seminars and workshops in the departments Young vhs, General Education, Culture/Design, Health, Languages and Profession/EDP.

Evening schools

A night school is a school for adults. Here, people can take the secondary school leaving certificate or the Abitur. This is also possible if you go to work. Classes are in the evening or at the weekend.

You can find more information here.

Distance Learning University in Hagen

The Distance Learning University in Hagen is the only state-run distance learning university in Germany. The degrees of the distance learning university are regular university degrees.

You can find more information here.