Asylum

Frequently asked questions about the asylum process

Who can be granted asylum?

Asylum law is anchored in Art. 16a of the Basic Law. It is the only basic right that is available to foreigners only.

The Federal Republic of Germany grants protection to refugees through the asylum process and the right of residence.

Foreigners may also be recognised as refugees within the meaning of the Geneva Convention on Refugees. Recognition is granted if the applicant's life or freedom is at risk in their state of origin, e.g. because of their race, religion or political beliefs.

People who are recognized as being entitled to asylum are granted a residence permit limited to three years in the first instance.

How does the asylum process work?

The decision about the asylum process is taken by the Federal Office for Migration and Refugees (Bundesamt für Migration und Flüchtlinge, BAMF). The Immigration Office is bound by those decisions and is not permitted to deviate from them.

At a hearing with the BAMF, you explain the reasons for leaving your homeland. A decision is then made about whether asylum or a different form of protection will be granted. Individual cases are always checked.

The decision on the application for asylum is given in writing. The letter also includes the reason for the decision.

If the application is rejected, you must leave Germany. If you do not do so, you risk being deported.

An appeal against the decision can be made to the Administrative Court.

How long does the asylum process take?

Currently the asylum process takes just under seven months on average. It currently takes so long because of a number of complicated old cases. BAMF is now taking decisions on new application within two months.

What obligations do I have?

You must respect and comply with German law and regulations.

If you wish to apply for benefits under the Asylum Seekers' Benefits Act (AsylbLG), you are also under general obligations to cooperate under Section 15 of the Asylum Act (AsylG).

You are obliged:

- to provide the authorities entrusted with implementing this law with the information required either verbally or, on request, in writing.
- to comply with the statutory and official regulations to register with certain authorities or bodies or to appear before them in person.
- to present, submit or surrender your passport or equivalent to the authorities entrusted with implementing this law.
- to present, submit or surrender all necessary certificates and other documents in your possession to the authorities entrusted with implementing this law.
- to cooperate in obtaining an identity document if you do not have a valid passport or equivalent.

Particular cooperation obligations:

You are obliged:

- to ensure that you are contactable at all times.
(Section 10 AsylG in conjunction with Section 47 (3) AsylG)
- to reside regularly in the accommodation allocated to you.
(Section 50 (6) AsylG)
- to present facts and evidence to justify your request for asylum.
(Section 25 AsylG)
- to appear at any hearing or when summonsed in person.
(Section 25 (1) AsylG; Section 61 SGB I)
- to comply with the requirements in the notifications and letters sent to you.
- to disclose all facts that are relevant to benefits and, on demand by the benefit provider responsible, to agree to provision of essential information to third parties.
(Section 60 (1) no. 1 SGB I)
- to provide prompt notification of changes in circumstances that are relevant to benefits or in the declarations made in connection with the benefits.
(Section 60 (1) no. 2 SGB I)
- to indicate the nature of any evidence and, on demand by the relevant benefit provider, to present documentary evidence or agree to its submission.
(Section 60 (1) no. 3 SGB I)

A breach of the above cooperation obligations may result in the asylum seekers' benefits being cut or stopped or the asylum application being rejected/failing.

What happens on arrival in Germany?

There is a prescribed procedure that you and the official bodies must follow.

- 1. If you are not in possession of the necessary immigration papers, you can request asylum at the border. In the case of unauthorized entry, you must register immediately with a reception centre or seek asylum from the local Immigration Office or Police.
- 2. You will then be sent to an initial reception centre that is responsible for you. Depending on your country of origin, you may stay in reception centres for up to six months or until a decision is made on your application.
- 3. In the reception centre, you will be registered and questioned briefly about the reasons why you fled your homeland (initial or individual interview by the government of Upper Bavaria). You will be given a provisional document that allows you to stay in Germany. This is valid until a decision is made on the asylum application. You will be examined by a doctor.
- 4. During the asylum process, you will have a personal hearing with a BAMF officer about the reasons why you fled your homeland. After a certain period in the reception centre, you will be allocated to a district according to a predetermined distribution plan and you will be accommodated there. Depending on circumstances, that may be a room in a container unit, in a large house or in a former hotel or guest house.

How do I apply for benefits?

You must come to the Immigration Office to apply for benefits.

Basic application for benefits

Documents required:

- Passport/ID
- Benefits application
- Cooperation obligations

Other benefits

- Maternity benefit
- Pushchair

What changes following a positive decision on an asylum application?

You will be given a residence permit if the BAMF recognises you as being entitled to asylum, as a refugee or as a person entitled to subsidiary protection, or if it establishes any other reasons to prevent deportation.

What consequences does a rejection of the asylum application have?

If the BAMF determines that no positive decision is possible (i.e. there is no reason to grant asylum, no recognition of refugee status, no granting of subsidiary protection, no obstacle to deportation), the BAMF will issue an order for you to leave Germany.

The Immigration Office then has to check and carry out measures to terminate residence.

Can I apply for relocation/transfer?

Relocation within the district of Garmisch-Partenkirchen

You can apply to the Immigration Office for relocation within the district. It will then determine whether the application can be granted.

Request for relocation

Relocation within Bavaria and Germany

An application can be made for relocation within Bavaria or elsewhere in Germany. This will be forwarded by the District Administration of Garmisch-Partenkirchen to the relevant authorities. The application will only be granted in exceptional circumstances, however; e.g. relocation of your spouse (but not your siblings, friends, etc.) or because of medical necessity.

Am I permitted to move into private accommodation?

Under Section 53 (2) sentence 1 AsylG, you are permitted to move into private accommodation if you have received a positive decision from the BAMF and your status has been recognised.

If you have not yet been recognised, you may be permitted to move into private accommodation as an exception on application to the Immigration Office. The prerequisite is that you no longer require any benefits under the AsylbLG. Your subsistence must be covered by your own income or that of your spouse. A further prerequisite for possible approval is that all persons are in possession of a valid passport or are cooperating in obtaining identity papers.

Among other things, approval will be given on condition that you can cover your own subsistence. If those conditions cease to apply subsequently (e.g. if you lose your job) and you make another claim for benefits under the AsylbLG, you must move back into asylum-seekers' accommodation.

Application to move into private accommodation

Am I allowed to work?

The money you get from the foreigners office is not enough for you? Would you like to move into your own apartment or simply pursue a meaningful occupation?

Then a job or apprenticeship is perfect for you!

What advantages do I have if I work or do an apprenticeship?

- depending on how much you work, you get significantly more money
- if you earn enough and have a passport, you can move into your own apartment
- you get a much better health insurance if you work more than on a mini job basis (538€)
- you can pursue a meaningful occupation and contribute to society
- you can learn German at work
- if you successfully complete an apprenticeship, you have a good chance of getting a residence permit

Have we sparked your interest? Then come by or call us and find out about your options!

If you have any other questions about work or training, we are happy to help!

When can I work or start an apprenticeship?

- Between the 3. and 6. month after you applied for asylum or the issuance of the proof of arrival, the decision is at the discretion of the foreigner's office, Garmisch-Partenkirchen and the Federal Employment Agency (Bundesagentur für Arbeit) must agree.
 - 6 months after you have submitted your asylum application or the proof of arrival has been issued, you are entitled to a work permit (Section 61 (1) sentence 2 AsylG) if
 - the Federal Employment Agency has approved
 - you do not come from a safe country of origin,
 - and your asylum application has not been rejected as obviously unfounded or inadmissible
 - if you have a Duldung, the decision about work is at the discretion of the immigration office.
- You always need a passport in this case.

At discretion, the following examples are positively evaluated:

- you have proven your identity
- you have a valid passport
- you were involved in the asylum procedure
- you have special integration skills, for example you speak German very well

In the case of discretion, the following examples are rated negatively (Section 61 (2) Asylum Act):

- Your application for asylum has been rejected
- a Dublin procedure has been initiated for you
- you have committed a crime
- you have not proven your identity
- you don't have a passport
- Your place of work is far away from your place of residence

Which documents do we need from you?

- In all cases, we require your employer to fill out the „Erklärung zum Beschäftigungsverhältnis“ form in full.

How to get the formular?

1. you can pick it up at our office,
2. download it from the website of Landratsamt Garmisch-Partenkirchen under Formulare -> Migration & Personenstand
3. or request it digitally via email

- the employment or apprenticeship contract

When am I not allowed to work or start an apprenticeship?

- If you are coming from one of the following countries:

Albania, Bosnia und Herzegovina, Ghana, Kosovo, Macedonia, Montenegro, Senegal, Serbia

- if less than three months have passed since you applied for asylum or the proof of arrival was issued

- if you have a „Duldung“ and there is an absolute ban on employment according to Section 60 (6) AufenthG

- if you already have a „Duldung“, you can usually no longer start an apprenticeship

Application documents required:

- Employment contract
- job description.pdf

Please remember the possibility of working in the context of Work Opportunities \(AGH\).

Will I still receive money from the District Administration if I am working?

If you work, you will receive money from your job. This money will be deducted from your benefits under the AsylbLG. However, you have an allowance that is not taken into account. You can keep this amount. So if you are working, you will always have more money than if you are not working.

If the adjusted income (i.e. minus the tax-free amount, taxes, social insurance, etc.) exceeds your need for benefits under the AsylbLG, you will no longer receive any money from the district office. Otherwise you will receive a residual amount of benefits.

Can I see a doctor?

Medical care is provided for you in Germany.

0-18 months from arrival

If you have to see a doctor in the first 18 months from your arrival, you will be given so-called health insurance certificates (“Krankenscheine”). These are usually issued once a quarter and are sent to your doctor’s surgery.

The following can be treated there:

- Acute illnesses and pain
- Essential medical check-ups
- Comprehensive treatment and care during and after pregnancy
- Vaccinations

In individual cases, services may also be provided that are essential to safeguard your health. If your doctor prescribes special medication or a stay in hospital, the Immigration Office must first give its written consent (exception: emergencies). A doctor’s certificate may also be requested for this.

Costs for transport when you are ill will not be paid, unless the journeys are essential for medical reasons. Difficult connections alone are not a justification for providing transport.

If you need to see a dentist, you require a dental treatment certificate from the Immigration Office. Dentures can be provided only if required urgently for medical reasons.

after 18 months

The Immigration Office will verify whether you have a right to your own health insurance (see e.g. cooperation obligations).

If the response to the check is positive, you can choose a health insurance company. You will then receive an electronic health insurance card, which you must show to your doctor. For dental treatment you no longer require a specific dental treatment certificate. The Immigration Office no longer has to approve special treatments or stays in hospital.

But: it may be that you have to pay top-up fees for individual services.

If the response to the check is negative, you will continue to receive healthcare as in the first 18 months of your stay.

Foreigners living in Germany and going through the asylum process receive benefits. If entitlement to asylum is rejected through the asylum process but you are still permitted to remain in Germany (e.g. because of a temporary postponement of deportation on the grounds of illness), you still have a right to benefits under this law.

Work Opportunities (Arbeitsgelegenheiten - AGH)

1. What are Work Opportunities?

In accordance with Section 5 of the Asylum Seekers Benefits Act (AsylbLG), Work Opportunities allow asylum seekers to occupy their time in a meaningful way, become integrated into society and earn additional money.

In carrying out the work, neither an employment contract nor any relationship that requires payment of health insurance or pension contributions comes about.

2. What specific work is available?

The work must serve a public or charitable purpose.

Examples:

- Cleaning/caretaker work in the accommodation
- Maintenance and cleaning of parks and public areas (e.g. clearing snow, collecting rubbish)
- Removal assistant/furniture transport (e.g. for the Prozent-Markt charity)

Work Opportunities must not replace any existing jobs but must be created additionally.

The work must not be carried out on a full-time basis. If protective clothing (e.g. helmets, shoes) is required, it must be made available. Activities that give rise to particular risks are not permitted. The working hours specified by the provider of the Work Opportunity must be observed.

3. Who can take up a Work Opportunity?

Recipients of benefits under the AsylbLG (not under SGB II) who are capable of working, are not in work and are not of compulsory school age.

4. Is it possible to turn down a Work Opportunity that has been offered?

As a matter of principle, a Work Opportunity must be accepted once it has been offered and can only be turned down under special circumstances (e.g. illness). The intention is to make a contribution to the costs of the asylum process in this way, too.

If the Work Opportunity is turned down without good reason, any benefits under the AsylbLG may be cut or stopped.

5. What payment is provided?

The pay is 0.80 €/hour.

As it is not regarded as an income or a wage under the AsylbLG, it is not offset against the allowance. It is therefore an additional payment.

Residence status

You will make your application for asylum at your 1st meeting with the Federal Office for Migration and Refugees (BAMF) (1st interview date). The date of the appointment and the BAMF office you need to attend are stated on your arrival certificate.

A few days before the 1st interview date or the hearing (2nd interview date), you can apply for a travel ticket from Social Services. After the 1st interview, you must report to the Immigration Office \(Ausländerbehörde\).

The actual hearing is held during the 2nd interview. The BAMF decides on the asylum application and will send you their decision.

This video explains the hearing at the BAMF to you in various languages.

Information on the Asylum Procedure in English

Positive decision

Your status as a refugee or a person entitled to secondary protection is recognised. You will receive the letter of recognition (“Anerkennungsbescheid”) from the BAMF. This is a very important document.

Now you have to take the following steps:

1. Apply for new documents from the Immigration Office

Take your temporary residence permit and the notification of recognition from the BAMF with you.

Then you apply for your residence permit (“Aufenthaltserlaubnis”). You will receive a “probationary permit” (“Fiktions-Bescheinigung”) until these new documents are ready.

»» Immigration Office

2. Appointment with the Job Centre

So far, you have received your financial support from the Social Welfare Office. If the decision is positive, you will now receive this from the Job Centre. You have to register with the »» Job Centre straight away. There, you will also receive help »» Looking for Work.

3. Health insurance (e.g. AOK)

If you are getting benefits from the Job Centre, you are covered by statutory health insurance. The Job Centre registers you for health insurance. For further information, see »» Health

4. Looking for accommodation

You can now move into your own home. See »» Housing.

Negative decision

You can appeal against a negative decision in court. If you want to appeal, please contact the »» Refugee and Integration Advice Centre \(Flüchtlings- und Integrationsberatungen\). You can discuss how to proceed and a specialist lawyer can be appointed to represent you.

If the court has decided that you will not receive a residence permit, then you have to leave the country. You are not permitted to stay in Germany.

If you decide to leave the country voluntarily, you can receive financial support for your new start in your home country.

Coming home - advice on returning

You can return to Germany again at a later date.

If you refuse to leave, you will be deported by the police. Usually you will not then be permitted to return to Germany for several years.

Residence permit

Many non-German nationals have an identification card (Ausweis). Your identification card provides details on your status and whether restrictions apply for any potential employment (“when am I allowed to work?”).

There are 5 types of documents:

1. Proof of arrival (Ankunftsnachweis)

Status: Asylum requested (Asylbegehrende)

Background: Issued to non-German nationals who have requested asylum. Valid from the time of request for asylum and the official application for asylum at the Federal Office for Migration and Refugees (BAMF).

Proof of arrival

2. Temporary residence permit (Aufenthaltsgestattung)

Status: Asylum seeker (Asylsuchende)

Background: Issued for the implementation of an asylum procedure up until the decision of the Federal Office for Migration and Refugees (BAMF).

The ID card for asylum seekers includes conditions of employment, housing situation and initial territorial limitations.

- If an employment permit is required, this can be applied for at the Immigration Office (employer or employee)
- Responsible for work placements: »»Federal Employment Agency

3. Temporary residence permit (Fiktionsbescheinigung)

Status: Recognised asylum seekers

Background: Transition document valid for the period after your application for asylum has been granted, until you receive your residence permit.

4. Residence permit

Status: Recognised asylum seekers

Background: Asylum granted

The residence permit grants temporary residence. It is issued in accordance with the Residence Act (e.g. residence for humanitarian reasons).

- Basis for a permanent residence permit
- This opens up the option for a future indefinite right of residence (settlement permit)
- It offers unrestricted access to the labour market without the need for a work permit
- Responsibility for work placements or financial services: »»Job Centre

5. Temporary postponement of deportation (Duldung)

Status: People with temporary postponement of deportation (Geduldete)

Background: Rejected asylum application

A "Duldung" is a temporary postponement of deportation and does NOT grant you legal residence! This document is only granted if deportation is impossible due to legal, factual, humanitarian, or personal reasons.

- General regulation for temporary legal suspension of deportation for certain groups by order of the highest state authority for a maximum duration of 3 months ("suspension of deportation")
- As a general rule, a work permit is necessary; apply to the »»Immigration Office (employer or employee)

Application for asylum

Are you registered in Germany and live in shared accommodation? What happens next? The next steps are explained here:

1. Personal application for asylum

- You can apply for asylum at the BundesAmt für Migration und Flüchtlinge (BAMF - Federal Office for Migration and Refugees).
- Important: You can only submit your application in person; you cannot send this application by post.
- You will receive the appointment and the responsible BAMF office with your proof of arrival. If you have not received an appointment, ask your accommodation management.

2. First interview appointment (asylum application)

- After your first appointment, you must present yourself at the »»Immigration Office \(Ausländerbehörde\).

3. Personal hearing

- The 2nd interview appointment is the actual hearing. The BAMF decides on your application for asylum. Then it sends you a decision.

a) The decision is negative

- If the decision is negative and you want to appeal (meaning that you do not agree), immediately go to your »»Refugee and Integration Counselling centre. There they can discuss with you what can be done and you can consult with specialised lawyers.
- If you decide to leave the country voluntarily, then you can receive financial support for your new start in your home country.

b) The decision is positive, meaning that you are recognised as an asylum seeker. What are the next steps?

Apply for a temporary residence permit (Fiktionsbescheinigung) or an electronic residence permit (eAT) If the BAMF notice has been given, it is necessary to arrange an identity document or equivalent immediately: »»Immigration Office \(Ausländerbehörde\)

Job Centre: You no longer receive your money from the social welfare office; instead, you have to apply at the job centre.

Family asylum

Family members of those with subsidiary protection also receive asylum.

When it comes to family asylum, a family member is:

- Spouses or registered civil partners or cohabitant,
- the minor unmarried children,
- the parent with the custodial right to the minor unmarried children,
- other adult persons who are the registered guardians of minor unmarried children,
- the minor unmarried siblings of minors.

The requirement for spouses is that a valid marriage had already taken place in the country of origin, the application for asylum was submitted before or at the same time as the spouse with subsidiary protection, at the latest immediately after their arrival in the country, and as long as the subsidiary protection is not to be withdrawn.

Born in Germany:

If a child is born to parents following their application for asylum, the host offers the possibility, for the protection of children under particular requirements, for their own asylum procedure. To do so, the parents, of which at least one of them is still in the asylum process, or the immigration authority must inform the Bundesamt (Federal Office) of the birth. In the interest of the new-born, the asylum application is automatically considered submitted. The parents can submit particular reasons for asylum for the child. If this is not done, then the same reasons as those of the parents will be valid. Legal action remains open in this case should an application be rejected by the Bundesamt (Federal Office).

In addition, for the protection of the child, under-age children cannot be separated from their parents if an application has been rejected.

You can find more information on this at the BAMF.

Information

Learning German is important for finding work in Germany and for finding your way around. Here you can find options and advice centres for learning German. There are many different ways to learn German. There are different options depending on your residency status. If you don't speak German so well, then you will need support. You can find contact details for the support you need here too.

Language Courses

Integration courses

In the general integration course, you will learn German up to level B1 in around 600 class hours. During an additional 100 class hours, you will gain insights into the culture, politics and social customs of Germany.

The integration courses are free of charge.

You may be required to participate in an integration course by the Job Centre, Social Services or the Immigration Office. If you are not obliged to participate in an integration course but want to do so, you can apply for an integration course through the BAMF. If you need assistance with the application, please contact your >>Refugee and Integration Counselling Service. They will also help you to choose a course.

You can also contact the respective course provider directly. The following course providers offer classes in the district:

vhs Garmisch-Partenkirchen e.V.

vhs Murnau e.V.

German courses for initial language orientation

The German courses for initial language orientation (also known as initial orientation courses) provide both elementary knowledge of German as well as information about life in Germany. The content constitutes a practical first experience for participants in a new social environment and helps with their orientation in everyday life. One course comprises 300 teaching units, each 45 minutes long. The modules of the course cover topics such as "health/medical care", "work", "kindergarten/school", "housing", "local information/transport/mobility". Spoken communication is the main focus: Participants should learn as quickly as possible how to find their way around in everyday life. In the case of initial orientation courses, it is also a question of teaching values.

Initial orientation courses are primarily intended for asylum seekers with an unclear prospect of permanent residence. Provided that there are free places on the course, recognised asylum seekers, legally tolerated foreigners and asylum seekers with good prospects of permanent residence may also participate. However, the initial orientation courses are not intended for persons who must attend school or vocational colleges. If you are given access to an »»integration course while participating in an initial orientation course, it is possible to switch. The people on the courses have a very different educational background. Illiterate people can attend the courses as well as graduates. Initial orientation courses are free of charge.

The course language is German – interpreters are not present on the course.

If you need support or assistance, please contact >>Refugee and Integration Counselling. They will help you to find a suitable course.

Vocational language course (DeuFÖV)

Vocational German language courses help to improve your own German language skills, for example, after having already taken an integration course. The so-called DeuFöV courses can be attended alongside a job, education or a vocational qualification measure or as preparation for starting a career in Germany.

The basic modules of the DeuFöV courses are aimed at guiding you to speaking level C2 in three modules of 300 teaching units. Each of these modules includes a certification exam. Prerequisite for participation is a speaking level of at least B1.

You can get information on vocational language courses from your >>Refugee and Integration Counselling centre or here:

You can find information on volunteer-run language programmes from the >>Volunteer Coordination Service.

A network of volunteers translates words and phrases for initial orientation covering a basic vocabulary and medical and legal terms in 44 languages. The translations and resources are made available as open-source data and files ready for printing. All the materials are available under an open licence. Refugee initiatives, designers and helpers can use and adapt the data free of charge to create their own versions and use them for support projects.

How do I find an interpreter?

If you go to the authorities, such as the Immigration Office, you need an interpreter. But an interpreter is also very helpful for visits to the doctor, for parents' meetings in the school or kindergarten.

Some authorities and institutions have language mediators themselves and you can use them in the consultations. When you make an appointment, please always ask if an interpreter is provided free of charge.

[Einfügen: etwa: "wenn sie einen Dolmetscher brauchen, dann melden sie sich hier": Institution, Adresse in der Region, Link, mögliche Sprachen etc.]

 In Germany, official documents, such as certificates, and marriage or birth certifications may only be translated by certified translators. These translations can be very expensive. Please check beforehand whether you really need a certified translation and compare the translation prices.

Interpreters

Some authorities and organisations have their own interpreters and you can use them in meetings. When you make an appointment, please always ask if an interpreter is provided free of charge.

In Germany, official documents, such as credentials and marriage or birth certificates, may only be translated by certified translators. These translations can be very expensive. Please check beforehand whether you really need a certified translation and compare the translation prices.

Become an interpreter

Do you speak good English or even German? Then you can volunteer to support your fellow immigrants who do not speak English or German. For example, you can accompany them to government offices or other appointments.

If you're interested, please contact Refugee and Integration Counselling.

Cultural interpreter

How can I be a cultural interpreter?

Here is the answer:

If you have the following:

1. B1 knowledge of German and at least one other language
2. your own immigration history
3. knowledge of life in Germany

then you can do the cultural interpreting course and become a cultural interpreter.

You will receive a certificate with which you can translate for people from your home country in various organisations (Caritas, Skf, schools, kindergartens, authorities and associations).

- Information for nationals living abroad about social security
- Regulation of the situation of nationals living abroad who are obliged to complete military service
- Help in financial and other emergency situations
- Support for nationals who are in prison and monitoring of court proceedings for compliance with the rule of law
- Issuance of visas and information about immigration, residence and working conditions

Legal advice

If you have any questions, problems or concerns relating to the law, there are various sources of support:

The Refugee Law Clinic is a volunteer group based at the University of Munich. It offers free legal counselling in asylum and immigration law and is located in Munich. All of the counsellors are law students; they are guided by lawyers who specialise in these fields. Still, this service is not equivalent to counselling and representation by a real lawyer.

Four counselling sessions take place per month in Munich. Each session begins at 6 PM. You can only sign up for the event at 5:30 PM at the location. The first eight people to sign up are guaranteed a counselling session. Please note that you may have to wait for a long time!

Refugees with residence permits (Aufenthaltserlaubnis)

If you have been recognised by the Federal Office for Migration and Refugees (BAMF) as a person entitled to asylum, refugee or subsidiary protection, the Immigration Office gives you a residence permit (Aufenthaltserlaubnis). The prerequisite for the aforementioned applications is ALWAYS a specific job offer.

Work Opportunities (Arbeitsgelegenheiten - AGH) for asylum seekers

1. What are Work Opportunities?

In accordance with Section 5 of the Asylum Seekers Benefits Act (AsylbLG), Work Opportunities allow asylum seekers to occupy their time in a meaningful way, become integrated into society and earn additional money.

In carrying out the work, neither an employment contract nor any relationship that requires payment of health insurance or pension contributions comes about.

2. What specific work is available?

The work must serve a public or charitable purpose.

Examples:

- Cleaning/caretaker work in the accommodation
- Maintenance and cleaning of parks and public areas (e.g. clearing snow, collecting rubbish)
- Removal assistant/furniture transport (e.g. for the Prozent-Markt charity)

Work Opportunities must not replace any existing jobs but must be created additionally.

The work must not be carried out on a full-time basis. If protective clothing (e.g. helmets, shoes) is required, it must be made available. Activities that give rise to particular risks are not permitted. The working hours specified by the provider of the Work Opportunity must be observed.

3. Who can take up a Work Opportunity?

Recipients of benefits under the AsylbLG (not under SGB II) who are capable of working, are not in work and are not of compulsory school age.

4. Is it possible to turn down a Work Opportunity that has been offered?

As a matter of principle, a Work Opportunity must be accepted once it has been offered and can only be turned down under special circumstances (e.g. illness). The intention is to make a contribution to the costs of the asylum process in this way, too.

If the Work Opportunity is turned down without good reason, any benefits under the AsylbLG may be cut or stopped.

5. What payment is provided?

The pay is 0.80 €/hour.

As it is not regarded as an income or a wage under the AsylbLG, it is not offset against the allowance. It is therefore an additional payment.

Vocational school (ages 16 – 21)

Young people between ages 16 and 21 must attend a vocational school, either through vocational training or through job integration classes (BIK).

In these job integration classes (BIK), you can learn German for free while also preparing for your career. You can graduate with a secondary school degree (Mittelschulabschluss) in two years. Exceptions may be made for young people up to age 25 who want to attend BIK classes.

Job integration classes (BIK)

Year 1: BIK-V (pre-class before the job integration year)

This is intended for refugees who are required to attend vocational school and other young people who have poor German language skills. During the BIK-V year, the main goal is learning German.

Year 2: BIK (job integration classes)

This is intended for refugees and migrants who are required to attend vocational school and other school-age young people without a recognised school leaver's certificate or cannot start vocational training yet. You can attend the BIK subsequent to the BIK-V. If you already speak German well (A2 level), you can also skip the first year and start the Year 2 BIK programme.

Please register directly with the Berufsschule (Vocational School) Garmisch-Partenkirchen. You can find more detailed information and the registration form for BIK/V and BIK here. Once you register, the vocational school will invite you to take a placement test. The vocational school will send you a letter in advance with the exact date and time.

Education (dual training and full-time school)

In Germany, it is a great advantage to have a professional qualification before starting work. People with professional qualifications earn more money on average over the course of their lives, are less likely to be unemployed, and are less likely to have temporary contracts than those without professional qualifications.

Dual Education

The dual education scheme is unique to Germany. Dual training takes place about one third of the time in the »»vocational school and about two thirds of the time in a training company. You can simultaneously learn the theory and practice while earning money at a company during your apprenticeship.

Depending on the type of profession you would like to learn in dual training, you should contact the right place:

The Chamber of Commerce (HWK) is the authority that governs manual professions. This involves professions such as bakers, bricklayers or painters.

Preschool education at the vocational school

In Germany, however, there is not only dual education, but also fully school-based training at vocational schools. Vocational training provides full vocational training in theory and practice, outside of the dual education system (without an apprenticeship at a company). It usually takes two to three and a half years. The course is full-time and includes general subjects in addition to the professional subjects. Since the vocational schools differ greatly in terms of their faculties, admission requirements, training duration and further education possibilities, it is advisable to make enquiries at the school in question.

University study

3rd Level Education

Refugees also have the opportunity to study in Germany. However, they must fulfil the same prerequisites as other foreign students. In addition, they must have a good level of spoken and written German (usually C1, at least B2).

There are three types of buses in the district of Garmisch-Partenkirchen: However, it is possible to study at one of the universities in Munich. In Benediktbeuern, there is also the Katholische Stiftungshochschule (KSH), a Catholic university that offers degree courses in social work, health and teaching.

Financing and scholarships

As a student in Germany, it is possible to receive financial support through the Bundesausbildungsförderungsgesetz, a federal act for promoting higher education referred to in short as BAföG. The payments are made monthly and, in the best case, continue for the duration of your course of study. The monthly sum provided by the BAföG can be somewhere between €399 and €735. Half of the BAföG total must be paid back after course of study has been completed. The exact information on the BAföG changes regularly and can therefore be found under the following link:

Website about BAföG for refugees and migrants

As an alternative to the BAföG, it is also possible to get a scholarship. In contrast to the BAföG, a scholarship usually does not need to be paid back. Therefore, one must perform well and take on some voluntary commitments in order to be awarded a scholarship. The amount is often calculated in line with the BAföG. There is also an additional €300 paid monthly, this is known as "Büchergeld".

Organisations that award scholarships are often described as foundations that offer scholarships. The following foundations offer programmes, among other things, especially for refugees. Please refer to the respective websites for application guidelines and requirements.

There is also the Deutschland-Stipendium that provides €300 monthly as financial support. The Deutschland-Stipendium is awarded through the respective universities.

Recognition of credentials

Recognition of education certificates gained outside Germany

Certificates play an important role in Germany for school, studies or jobs. Certificates are used to demonstrate what people have learned and accomplished. Certificates are the main prerequisite for getting a job or for being admitted to a school or university. So if you have already earned certificates abroad at school, in an apprenticeship or in a university, you should make sure that these certificates are recognised in Germany. This means that your credentials will be used to check what you are qualified for in Germany. Your skills are “translated”, so to speak. It may be that you no longer have your certificates with you. In this case, you can try to have your professional experience and professional abilities recognised by passing some tests.

Official authentication of credentials

An official authentication is a confirmation of the authenticity of a document. This is necessary, for example, for enrolment at a university. There the photocopies of the credentials must be officially authenticated.

Contact either your local Rathaus (town hall) or the authority that requires the document for information about having documents authenticated.

Children, youth and family

The youth welfare office

Children, young people and families are under special protection in Germany. This protection begins during pregnancy and lasts until the child is 18 years old (of age). In Germany, it is forbidden by law to beat children. Education in Germany must be free of violence. Every child must go to school. There are authorities that ensure that a child is not harmed by its environment (including the family) (Amt für Kinder-, Jugend und Familien, >><https://www.lra-gap.de/de/kinder-jugend-familie...>

Pregnancy and childbirth

Pregnancy and birth

Pregnant women in Germany enjoy special protection and are entitled to advice, medical care and support with obtaining baby products. If you are pregnant, the first step is to visit a gynaecologist (women's doctor). The doctor will carry out a medical check-up. You will then receive a maternity record book (Mutterpass). The maternity record book is a document with important information about your pregnancy, your health and the health of your child. Always take your maternity record book with you, just in case there are any emergencies.

Delivery and Post-Natal Care

Your gynaecologist will refer you to a maternity hospital. After delivery, ask for a midwife for follow-up post-maternity care at your accommodation facility. You will receive a birth confirmation letter from the clinic.

Notifying the Registry Office (Standesamt)

New-borns must be reported to the Registry Office and to the accommodation management. The maternity hospital reports the birth to the Registry Office (Standesamt). If you show the Registry Office your ID, the birth confirmation letter you got from the clinic, and your marriage certificate (if you have one), they will give you a (possibly provisional) birth certificate. Please provide a copy of the birth certificate to your accommodation facility management so that your child can be registered.

Note: Please only provide original documents. An officially certified translation into German is required for documents that are in any language other than German.

Paediatrician

There are ten early detection examinations (U1-U9 and J1). Up until the age of 6, children are regularly examined and supported in their development. The U1 (examination after birth) and U2 examinations usually take place in the clinic. For further examinations, you must make an appointment with your paediatrician.

💡 A proof of complete early detection examinations may be required when applying to the day-care centre.

Childcare

What is a day-care centre (Kita)?

A day-care centre (Kita) is a term for children's day-care. Before your child starts school and between the ages of 1 and 12 years old, they can attend a day-care centre. Your child will be supervised by nursery school teachers and will learn a lot of important things.

Why is a day-care centre good for my child?

Here your child can learn German and discover new things. They also have contact with other children, make friends and learn about German culture. Take advantage of this opportunity; it is important for your child's future. Attending a children's day-care centre also serves as good preparation for school.

Every child is entitled to attend kindergarten. Unfortunately, there are not always enough places close to your home or accommodation. To find a place, ask your accommodation support centre or the Child Welfare Services.

How do I find a placement in a day-care centre for my child?

To find a placement, ask your accommodation support centre or the Office for Children, Youth and Families:

Office for Children, Youth and Families (Amt für Kinder, Jugend und Familie)

Olympiastr. 10

Telephone: 08821 751-289

E-Mail: fachaufsicht-kita@lra-gap.de

Financial support

The fees for the nursery school or day-care centre are usually paid for by the district. To receive this financial support, you must submit an application to the Office for Children, Youth and Families.

School for children aged 6 to 15

In Germany, there is something called “Schulpflicht” (“compulsory education”). This means that in Germany, all children aged between 6 and 15 are legally required to go to school. The children’s parents have the duty to ensure that the children attend school on a regular basis. Going to state and municipal schools is free of cost.

💡 The school often gives children written information to take home with them and give to the parents. It is important that you read this information.

Please register your child at the closest school to your residence. You can find an overview of the primary/elementary and secondary schools in the district here.

You can apply for extracurricular homework help that focuses on improving German language skills. You can also apply for financial aid for purchasing school supplies. If you are interested or have questions, contact

Family support centres

There are 4 family support centres in the district of Garmisch-Partenkirchen.

The abbreviation for this is FSP.

The FSPs are located in Murnau, Oberammergau, Garmisch-Partenkirchen and Mittenwald.

The FSPs offer many services for families:

- They help and support families with problems.
- They advise families on parenting.
- They offer many opportunities to join in.

For example, there are discussion groups for parents, arts and crafts, excursions and counselling.

Many programmes are free of charge. Some programmes cost a small fee.

Parents and pregnant women, grandmas, grandpas, aunts and uncles can go to the FSP. Parents can bring their children with them.

More information can be found here: <https://leben-in-gap.de/familie/familienstuetzpun...>

Refugee minors without parents

Refugees under the age of 18 who have travelled to Germany unaccompanied are known as unaccompanied minor aliens= umA. These young people are reported to the youth welfare office. The youth welfare office talks to the young people and establishes their age. The age assessment determines whether the Youth Welfare Office will take care of the minor (under 18 years of age) and place them in accommodation specifically for young people ("taking into care"). If the youth welfare office says that the person is "of age" (over 18), the person receives a rejection notice and is treated as an adult. The youth welfare office will bring an interpreter to the interview.

Important: If you are not yet 18 years old on your proof of arrival, but the Youth Welfare Office gives you a rejection notice, the Youth Welfare Office must enter a new date of birth on the notice. Only then can you have your documents changed at the Immigration Office and the Social Welfare Office.

Some minors (persons under the age of 18) are travelling without their parents, but with relatives (e.g. with an uncle or aunt, cousins or older siblings). Your accommodation service will report this to the Youth Welfare Office after your arrival. The Youth Welfare Office will talk to the minor and the adult relatives and check whether the minor can stay there. The Youth Welfare Office will also decide whether a guardian should be appointed. The Youth Welfare Office itself will bring an interpreter to the interview.

The adult relatives can also apply to the family court for guardianship themselves. The guardianship gives the relative full responsibility for the minor instead of the parents.

Notifying the youth welfare office if a child is at risk

If there are indications that a child is at risk, the youth welfare office must take action.

It has a legal mandate to follow up on information and make contact with the family. This can also mean ringing the doorbell without prior notice to speak to the parents and the child. If the family has problems, there is a lot of help that the youth welfare office can offer the parents free of charge. However, parents in Germany also have the right (= "custody rights") to decide for themselves whether or not to accept help. However, this right has limits: In cases of neglect or abuse, the child must be protected. The youth welfare office may then have to take the child away and place it in a children's home for the time being. In very serious cases, the family court may even take custody away from the parents.

It is important to be honest with the youth welfare office when reporting problems. Then they can usually help. However, it is even better to contact the youth welfare office yourself at an early stage if you need help.

Health

Information

In Germany, you are entitled to basic medical care for acute illnesses and pain. You are also entitled to every officially recommended immunisation and check-up. In addition, you are entitled to free medical services that are essential to safeguard your health. See a doctor if

- you are acutely ill or in pain.
- you are pregnant.
- you are chronically ill, for example if you have diabetes, epilepsy or mental illness. If you have any remaining medication or the package leaflet for your medication, please bring this with you to the doctor's appointment. If you have already been to the doctor or hospital because of the illness, please also bring the results with you.

As soon as you have a residence permit, you must register with a regular health insurance company. There you will receive an insurance card and will be entitled to the same benefits as all residents in Germany.

Visiting a doctor

During the asylum application process, refugees are entitled to basic medical care to relieve pain.

If you are physically or mentally ill and need to see a doctor, you will receive a treatment certificate from >>Social Services. This certificate must be submitted BEFORE treatment begins. This means your visit to the doctor will be free of charge.

If you need help finding a suitable doctor, ask the advice centres of the >>Refugee and Integration Counselling Service, your help group or your accommodation service.

Doctors' surgeries are usually open from Monday to Friday. Each doctor has different opening hours. It is better to make an appointment with the doctor beforehand.

Notes:

- In Germany, children go to paediatricians.
- If you are employed or have been living in Germany for 18 months, you can get health insurance cover (even during the asylum application process).
- The medical treatment certificate (Krankenbehandlungsschein) from the >>Immigration Office \(Ausländeramt\) is valid for one quarter of the year (three months). The certificate is issued once and sent directly to the doctor. In the district of Garmisch-Partenkirchen, you can choose your own doctor.
- In Germany, the dentist you visit is always independent of the family doctor. If any treatments are necessary, you should clarify how much they will cost beforehand.
- Everyone must pay the travel costs to the doctor's surgery themselves.
- Some medical services must be paid for privately. Costs must therefore be clarified in advance with the Immigration Office or with the insurance company.
- If an operation is necessary and it is not an emergency, the >>Immigration Office must first approve the hospital stay. Your doctor will provide you with a medical certificate. Only medically essential operations are covered.

Medication

If you need medication, you can get a prescription from your doctor. You can get your medication with this prescription at any pharmacy. Even with a prescription, not all medication is free of charge. Nevertheless, as an asylum seeker you can get lots of medication free of charge. Ask your doctor. If you don't have a prescription, you must always pay for the medication. There are some medications (such as antibiotics) which you can only get with a prescription. This means that you can't buy them without a prescription.

Pharmacies are generally open from Monday to Saturday. The opening times vary according to each chemist. If you urgently need medication at night or at weekends, you will find a sign at each pharmacy with the name and address of a pharmacy that is open for emergency service. This information can also be found on the internet.

Emergency numbers – SOS

Only in the event of an emergency may you go to the hospital without a medical treatment certificate. An emergency is an acute threat to health. Do not forget your proof of arrival/ID! At the hospital, you must show your proof of arrival/ID in order to prove that you are an asylum seeker and the costs are covered by Social Services. If you are already registered with a health insurance company, bring your insurance card with you.

Everyday Life

Information

Are you new in Germany?! Moving to a foreign country brings with it a lot of questions and a lot of work. Everyday life or some German ways of life must be foreign to many refugees and migrants. To make it little easier to get around in your everyday life, here are a few practical tips.

Germany from A to Z

Would you like to find out more about Germany? What traditions or eating habits there are here?

The website “Handbook Germany” features videos and text that can help you get to know your new home better.

Here you can find important information in German, ىسراف/ىرد, English, وٲ, Türkçe, Français and لىربع.

Community life in Germany

The Basic Law (Grundgesetz)

In every country, there are rules that everyone has to adhere to. The most important law in Germany is the Basic Law. It is a collection of 146 articles. Each article stands for a law, meaning a rule. These rules determine how we live together here in Germany.

The basic rights protect the freedom of each individual. They are set out in Articles 1 to 19 of the Basic Law.

Here you can find the Basic Law in 11 languages: * »»Arabic, »»Chinese, »»English, »»French, »»Italian, »»Persian, »»Polish, »»Russian, »»Serbian, »»Spanish, »»Turkish and, of course, »»German.

This film illustrates how the German legal state works:

Universal Declaration of Human Rights

Human rights are important rights that apply to everyone all over the world. They protect the dignity of every human being and apply to every person equally. No distinction is made on the basis of “(...)race, colour, sex, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth or other status.” (Article 2 of the United Nations’ Universal Declaration of Human Rights of 10.12.1948)

There are 30 rights. The most important are:

- All people are equally worthy.
- Everyone is allowed to have their own opinion.
- Right to peace and safety.

Children's rights

Children need extra protection, which is why they also have special rights. The individual children's rights are set out in the Convention on the Rights of the Child. This was adopted by the UN General Assembly in 1989 and subsequently ratified by 193 countries. The UN Convention on the Rights of the Child includes 54 articles.

The 10 most important children’s rights are explained here: »»Arabic and »»Persian.

Germany's Political System

Germany is a democratic country. Translated literally (it is originally an Ancient Greek word), the word “democracy” means “rule of the people”. In Germany, citizens aged 18 and over can exercise this right indirectly by voting for politicians who will represent their interests. The German government is run by the federal ministers, headed by current chancellor Angela Merkel. The chancellor is the most powerful political figure in Germany. She was elected by the Bundestag (German parliament) and selects the government ministers, as well as the guidelines for the policies of the federal government of Germany. The head of state is the president. Frank-Walter Steinmeier is the current president.

Germany is a federal republic consisting of 16 federal states (Bundesländer). Each federal state has its own regional government and capital. The state capital of Bavaria is Munich.

The federal government is responsible for issues that affect the whole country, such as defence and international policy. The state governments are responsible for things such as schools, universities and the police.

Germany is a social state. This means: although every citizen is meant to earn a living through work, the state helps people who cannot provide an income for themselves in whole or in part.

You can find more information here.

Here you can find a short video about the general election.

Men and women have equal rights

Women and men have the same rights. This is reflected in the law and in daily life.

All adults are allowed to make their own decisions and determine their own lives. It does not matter if you are male or female, young or old, with or without disabilities, or what your skin colour or religious affiliation are.

All human beings are free to do what they want as long as they abide by the law and do not restrict other people's freedoms.

Germany's legal system

Germany is a constitutional state. The decisions of the state – the government – become laws. The actions of the state can be monitored by the courts.

Everyone living in Germany must abide by the key principles of the political and legal system.

The main legal basis for life in Germany is the Basic Law. This is the constitution of the Federal Republic of Germany.

This video provides a brief overview of the German Basic Law.

Public Holidays and Opening Hours

Most major shops are open Monday to Saturday from 08:00 to 20:00. Smaller shops are often open for a shorter amount of time. Sometimes there is also a lunch break. On Sundays and public holidays, almost all shops are closed. At petrol stations, you will also be able to shop for some items on those days. Prices are often higher than they are in grocery shops, etc.

Public holidays are days off work and almost all shops are closed. There are public holidays across Germany and holidays that vary from state to state. Bavaria has 13 public holidays. Most of them are religious.

 Buses and trains run at different times on Sundays and public holidays!

Personal liability insurance

Even if you unintentionally cause harm to a person in Germany, you must pay damages according to the law. This applies to personal injury, material damage and property damage in the private sector. For example, if you cause a traffic accident or if your child breaks a window with a ball.

In Germany, you can take out personal liability insurance that will pay for this damage on behalf of you and your family/children. You can decide for yourself if you want to take out insurance. However, we strongly recommend doing so! Your help group can assist you in finding a good offer for personal liability insurance.

For refugees:

As an asylum seeker in Germany you have no legal right to internet access (Wi-Fi) in your accommodation. That is why there is normally no Wi-Fi in the accommodation facilities.

You can take out a contract for Wi-Fi yourself. There has to be a telephone line in your accommodation for this. Ask your Helper Circle to advise you in choosing a good contract. Talk to your fellow residents about the payment beforehand. Consider whether a contract that you can cancel at any time would be better than a contract that applies for a long time (for example 2 years).

Important: Talk to your accommodation facility management team first and before entering into a contract to check if Wi-Fi is technically possible and how you can give the technician access to the building.

Current account (Girokonto)

A checking account (Girokonto) is an account for people who want to make payments via a bank. Your money is available in your checking account at any time.

With a checking account, you can:

- Transfer money
- Receive cashless payments (disbursements from agencies/authorities (social benefits) are often made cashless meaning that they are transferred to a personal checking account)

- Set up standing orders
- Use direct debit services
- Cash a cheque, make cashless payments with an EC/Maestro card
- Withdraw money at the bank counter or an ATM
- Print your bank statements

Important: Make sure that you always have sufficient money in your bank account for any withdrawals and payments.

Tip: Different banks offer current accounts with different conditions. Find out exactly how much a checking account costs each month and what services the bank offers.

Opening an account

Decide which bank you want to open an account with. Make an appointment to open the account. Please bring one of your identity documents with you: Arrival certificate, residence permit, ID card. If no current address is recorded on the identity document, please provide a registration certificate or similar document.

Important: If you do not speak German or English, please take an interpreter along with you.

Important to note:

- Once your bank account has been opened, you will receive an EC debit card and a four-digit PIN code. Sign the back of the EC card and memorise your PIN code. You will need the PIN code for cashless payments and to withdraw money from ATMs. Make sure you keep your card and your PIN code separate!
- If you want to withdraw cash, you should use the ATMs of the bank where you have your account. Then the withdrawal is free. If you enter the PIN code at the ATM incorrectly three times, the EC card will be confiscated by the machine and blocked. If this happens, you must speak to your bank.
- If you lose your EC card or it is stolen, have it blocked immediately. Tell them your sort code and your account number. Then ask your bank for a new EC card.

If you need assistance using the EC card correctly, ask your Helper Circle.

Mobility

Many of the key places in Garmisch-Partenkirchen and the surrounding areas can be reached easily by public transport. A healthy, economical and environmentally friendly alternative to getting from A to B is by bicycle.

Driving licence

1. Having a foreign driving licence recognised

Do you already have a driving licence from your home country? Before you are allowed to drive a car, you must first check whether your driving licence is valid in Germany.

EU citizens are generally recognised as having a foreign driving license.

Driving licences from non-EU countries such as Syria, Iraq or Afghanistan are usually not recognised in Germany. You must retake the theoretical and practical exams.

2. Retaking your driving licence

If you want to drive in Germany and do not have a recognised driving licence, you need to attend a driving school.

There you will take theoretical and practical classes to learn the traffic regulations in Germany and how to drive a car.

The driving lessons and driving tests cost a lot of money. Check the costs with your driving school before you start!

In addition to German, the theoretical exam can be taken in the following languages: Arabic, Turkish, Spanish, French, Russian, Polish, Romanian, Italian, Portuguese and English.

You can obtain further information and the application forms from the Driving Licence Office \(Führerscheinstelle\).

Public transport

Garmisch-Partenkirchen has public transport that helps you get around. There are trains and buses.

Important: Travelling without a ticket, also known as fare-dodging, is punishable by fine! A valid ticket is required for each trip. Otherwise you will pay a penalty of €60.

 You can also view up-to-date transit information for the state of Bavaria in an app.

Bicycles

If you know that you will be living in Garmisch-Partenkirchen for a longer period, it is worth buying a bike. This is cheaper than travelling with the train or bus.

Important road rules for cyclists (excerpt)

- Always cycle on the right-hand side of the road
- Do not cycle side by side, but one behind the other
- If there is a cycle path, you must ride along the cycle path (only on the right side of the road in the direction of travel)

- Only children up to 11 years old are allowed to cycle on footpaths
- It is forbidden to cycle while using a mobile phone.

Purchase and repairs

💡 When buying, make sure that your bike is fitted with the following safety equipment and is therefore safe. Otherwise, you will have to pay a fine when subject to a police check:

- Lights at the front and rear
- Reflectors at the front and rear
- Reflectors on the spokes (2 per wheel)
- Reflectors on the pedals
- A bell
- Two independent brakes

Contracts and mobile phones

Very important: Never sign something that you have not understood or been able to read. Otherwise, you may sign a contract or an agreement that requires you to pay something afterwards. It is sometimes very difficult to undo this. Always check and compare several offers and take your time to decide. Do not let anyone pressure you to sign.

In Germany, there are two different types of mobile phone (“Handy”) contract: pre-paid contract and fixed-term contract. The pre-paid contract does not have a fixed term. The fixed-term contract has a minimum contract period. This contract will be renewed automatically if it is not terminated. If you do not want this contract to be renewed automatically, you have to make this known in writing. Make sure to observe the notice period.

Ask your Helper Circle for help, so that you can choose and finalise a good contract.

10 important questions about taking out a contract:

- What is the monthly payment? Does the fee increase after a certain period?
- Is there a minimum monthly fee?
- How long is the contract period (e.g. 12 or 24 months)?
- If I don't terminate the contract, will it be renewed automatically?
- When do I have to terminate the contract if I do not want it to be renewed?
- How much are the fees for setting up, changing or deactivating?
- What is the charging period (60/1, 10/10)?
- How much does a minute cost (different/own network)?
- What are the costs for buying a mobile phone with and without a contract?
- How much does Internet access cost?
- How much does it cost to call abroad?

Housing

Searching for somewhere to live

If you're looking for a place to live, you need to be patient, as there is not much accommodation available. When you are searching for accommodation, you will encounter many abbreviations. If something is not clear, ask someone to help you.

There are the following ways of finding a place to live:

The free newspaper Kreisbote features apartment listings every week.

Kreisbote website

You can search through various online platforms. The most widely used ones are:

- Immobilienscout
- Immowelt
- eBay Kleinanzeigen (Classifieds) (keyword: "Wohnung")

If you are interested in an apartment, you need to contact the person who posted the listing. If the apartment is still available, you then need to arrange a viewing. Take someone with experience in this area with you when you go to the appointment. Before signing a lease (rental contract), read it very carefully or ask someone else to check it for you.

Explanation of important abbreviations in German accommodation ads:

Whg. = Wohnung (flat), App. = Appartement (apartment), WG = Wohngemeinschaft (shared property/flatshare), Zi. = Zimmer (bedroom), ZKB = Zimmer-Küche-Bad (bedroom-kitchen-bathroom), EG = Erdgeschoss (ground floor), 1. OG = Erstes Obergeschoss (first floor), Wohnfl. = Wohnfläche (living space), EBK = Einbauküche (equipped kitchen), teilmbf. = teilmöbliert (partially furnished), inkl. = inklusive (included); MM = Miete pro Monat (monthly rent), NK = Nebenkosten (additional costs), HK = Heizkosten (heating expenses), Kaut. = Kautions (deposit)

Conclusion of the lease

IMPORTANT: If you have found an apartment and are receiving benefits from the The Job Centre or the Immigration Office - asylum you must not sign the lease immediately. The Job Centre/Immigration Office always has to check and approve the agreement before you sign it.

The lease must include the following points:

- "Cold" monthly rent: The rental costs for the living space per month, excluding service and utility costs such as heating
- Additional costs: this includes operating costs like stairwell cleaning, waste collection charges, janitorial costs, cable connection, etc.
- Heating costs: Costs for heating and hot water (Please note: you always have to pay electricity and heating costs yourself! For this reason, pay particular attention to how much electricity/heat you consume.)

- Size of apartment, number of rooms, address, landlord Many landlords also require Personal liability insurance.

Please remember to re-register – in other words, you need to register your new address (in person) at the Registration office \(Einwohnermeldeamt\).

Security deposit:

The deposit is a security payment you make to the landlord. The amount of the deposit is a maximum of 3 months' rent. When you move out of the property, you will get the money back provided that you have not caused any damage.

House regulations:

House regulations list specific rules about living together with others. They apply to anyone who lives in communal accommodation or in a flat.

The most important ones are:

- Noise: Everyone living in the building is responsible for keeping noise levels low as much as possible. You need to be particularly attentive to this between 13:00 and 15:00 and between 22:00 and 6:00 – these are the “quiet hours” (Ruhezeit). On Sundays and public holidays, quiet hours last the entire day.
- Waste disposal: Waste must be disposed of in the designated bins. There are different bins for plastic, paper and cardboard, fruit and vegetables (organic waste) and other waste. Please respect the correct rubbish separation, because the majority of rubbish is recycled and it is an important part of environmental protection.
- Ventilation: You should open the windows frequently to let in fresh air. This prevents mould from forming, for example.

Tenant guidelines

To make it easier for you to settle into their neighbourhood and prevent potential problems from arising in your new setting, the BBU organisation has created a document containing tenant guidelines.

It is available in German, Arabic, English, Urdu, Farsi, Tigrinya, Somali and Russian from the following link.

Some of the topics covered in the guidelines (and described clearly using words and pictograms) are: “Proper care of the apartment”, “Heating and ventilation”, “Waste disposal” and “Living in a community”.

Saving electricity

By saving energy you can save a lot of money in Germany and protect the environment.

Tips on topics such as heating, ventilation, saving on electricity and water are available to download here.

They are available in the following languages: German, English, Arabic, Kurdish, Dari

Leisure and sport

Having fun when exercising is one thing. But sport offers you another benefit, too: it is a great and proven way to settle in and integrate into a new environment. The rules of sport are not limited by cultural or national boundaries and are usually understood without a common language. Sport offers a good, informal possibility to make contact with locals through new friends.

Clubs

Clubs have a special social importance for many people in Germany; they offer people the chance to get together and turn goals into reality.

The district of Garmisch-Partenkirchen has many different clubs. There are many different kinds: sports clubs, music clubs and animal welfare organisations. Anyone can become a member of a club. It is a good way to make contact with people and make new friends.

Normally, you must pay an annual membership fee to be a member. However, for more precise information, you should contact the club directly.

The District Administrative Office or Job Centre may be able to cover the membership fee. For this to happen, you need to submit an >>Education and Inclusion (Bildung-und-Teilhabe or BuT) application.

The Garmisch-Partenkirchen District Youth Group (Kreisjugendring Garmisch-Partenkirchen) provides funding from the district for young adults aged 18 and over to participate in social and cultural activities. This financial support can be used for things such as membership fees for sports, games, cultural or social activities, art lessons or recreational activities. There is more detailed information >>here.

Would you like to learn to swim? Or play football? Or dance? Then contact the Garmisch-Partenkirchen District Youth Group. It can provide you with information and help you to find the right club or service and put you in contact.
