

German test for immigrants A2-B1 (DTZ)

The DTZ is the right exam for you if you need proof of your language skills for naturalisation in Germany. Integration courses end with this exam. All other interested parties in Germany can also take the exam.

The DTZ is a dual-level exam. It simultaneously tests general language skills at two levels of competence. It offers you an evaluation of your language skills in reading, listening, writing and speaking. You will find out exactly in which areas you have reached level A2 or B1.

Participants must obtain course books themselves, the costs are not covered by the job centre.
