Help for people from Ukraine

Information on the war in Ukraine

Information from the Federal Foreign Office and the Federal Office for Migration and Refugees

Here you can find out what is important at the moment - for example, what the current situation is. You can also find rules here if you want to enter Germany or if you need a visa. We have already written down some important questions and answers for you:

I am in Germany without a visa - what can I do now?

If you come from Ukraine, you do not currently need a visa to come to Germany. From the day you arrive, you can stay here for up to 90 days without special permission. You can even stay in Germany without a special residence permit until 4 March 2027.

During the 90-day visa exemption period, you can consider whether you would like to stay in Germany for longer. There are various options for this:

1. You can apply for a residence permit under Section 24 of the Residence Act within 90 days of your first entry into Germany. This provision specifically regulates the situation for war refugees from Ukraine on the basis of the EU decision. You can find out who is eligible for a residence permit under Section 24 of the Residence Act here. You can find answers to the procedure here.
2. You can apply for a residence permit for another purpose within 90 days of your first arrival in Germany. For example, to study or for gainful employment. This may be more favourable for you. You can seek advice on this from the authorities if you have an appointment, or you can find out more in advance on the website: <https://www.make-it-in-germany.com/>.
3. Alternatively, you can apply for asylum. However, this option is not recommended due to the less favourable legal consequences - such as the restriction on taking up employment and the obligation to live in an initial reception centre.

Do you have a valid residence permit in accordance with Section 24 of the Residence Act as of 1 February 2026?

Your residence permit will be automatically extended and will then be valid until 4 March 2027. You do NOT need to visit the immigration office for this. You can find more information on Germany4Ukraine.

What happens when you arrive in Germany?

When you come to Germany, there are a few important steps that you have to take one after the other. This is how it works:

- First, you register - this is called registration.
- If you need help from the state (for example money or food), you will be told where you can live.
- Then you register your new address, i.e. where exactly you now live.

- Finally, you apply for a permit so that you can stay in Germany for longer.

You can find more information on this here.

Can I work in Germany with a residence permit for temporary protection?

Yes, you can. However, before you can work, the immigration authority must authorise it. The immigration authority will often already enter in your residence permit that you are allowed to work - even if you do not yet have a job. This is good, because then you no longer need an extra permit from another authority.

The immigration authorities will issue so-called fictitious certificates as soon as you submit your application. These bridge the right of residence until the actual residence title can be issued and granted. The foreigners authority will also enter "Gainful employment permitted" in the fictitious certificate. This fictitious certificate therefore authorises you to work in Germany either as a self-employed person or as an employee. Special professional access requirements (such as a licence to practise medicine or a permit for a trade requiring a licence) naturally apply to persons with temporary protection in the same way as to all others. However, the procedures for recognising foreign professional qualifications are also open to those affected, just like everyone else.

Persons with a residence permit for temporary protection in Germany can also receive counselling and placement services from the employment agencies in accordance with SGB III.

Should people from Ukraine apply for asylum?

No, that is not necessary. The necessary protection is granted in a different, faster procedure. It is therefore recommended that you do not apply for asylum. However, if you want to apply for asylum later, you can still do so.

As a result of the decision to admit war refugees in accordance with Article 5 (1) of Council Directive 2001/55/EC of 20 July 2001 on minimum standards for giving temporary protection, a residence permit in accordance with Section 24 of the Residence Act (AufenthG - Residence Permit for Temporary Protection) will be granted to the group of persons covered by the decision upon application.

Registration upon entry does not constitute an application for asylum. The asylum procedure requires an application for asylum to be submitted to the responsible branch office of the Federal Office for Migration and Refugees.

For these reasons, it is not necessary to file an asylum application to secure a right of residence or to claim social benefits.

Millions of people from Ukraine are seeking protection from the war - and the willingness of citizens in the district of Bad Kissingen to help is enormous. In order to be able to bundle the help, the coordination team "Ukraine Help" has been founded in the district office of Bad Kissingen.

The coordination team can be contacted by e-mail at ukraine-hilfe@kg.de.

If you are unable to send an e-mail, you can call the hotline at 0971/801-3800. It is staffed during office hours: Monday to Friday 8 am to 12 noon.

Free WLAN

There are numerous free WLAN HotSpots throughout the Bad Kissingen district. Some municipalities offer open free hotspots through a framework agreement of the Free State of Bavaria ("BayernWLAN"). These can be used free of charge without registration. An overview is available in the Bayern WLAN map.

1.1 Registration of the refugees

→ All refugees (including those staying with private individuals) are asked to register immediately at the residents' registration office of the respective municipality. The registration office will then send the data to the Foreigners' Registration Office (Ausländerbehörde) at the District Office (Landratsamt).

→ For the further registration under immigration law (taking fingerprints/issuing a residence permit or toleration), the immigration authorities arrange an appointment with the person concerned personal visit to the district office.

→ If you need to be granted benefits under the Asylum Seekers Benefits Act (AsylbLG), you must submit an application to the social welfare office. To do this, the respective persons must present themselves to the social welfare administration of the district office in Bad Kissingen as soon as possible. No prior appointment is required for this. Please note our opening times!

Bad Kissingen District Office
Obere Marktstrasse 6
97688 Bad Kissingen

Do refugees have to register in any case?

No, Ukrainian nationals with a biometric passport can, in principle, travel freely within the Schengen area for 90 days for a short stay and without a visa. After 90 days they would be in the country illegally and therefore need a residence permit.

If you do not have a biometric Ukrainian passport, you must register in order to receive a toleration from the immigration authorities. However, registration is a prerequisite for the granting of social benefits. We therefore recommend that refugees register with the residents' registration office promptly, at the latest by the end of the 90-day period mentioned.

An application for a residence permit/Duldung for Ukrainian you can find here.

1.2 Housing for refugees / information for landlords

Where do refugees turn to who are looking for suitable housing?

Directly to the Ukraine hotline at ukraine-hilfe@kg.de or Tel. 0971/801-3800. The offers are bundled there and living space is mediated.

As a landlord, do I get a subsidy if I make living space available?

The cost of the apartment, i.e. the rent, is covered by the social welfare office. There is an upper rent limit and a defined living space (e.g. 65 square meters must be available for two people). The ancillary costs - up to a certain amount - are also covered by the office. You can find out here which accommodation costs are reasonable in the area of the district and the city of Bad Kissingen since January 1st, 2022.

Between which parties is the rental agreement concluded?

The rental contract is concluded between the landlord and the tenant, it is a contract under private law. Details (such as notice periods) must be agreed between these two parties accordingly. The rent is transferred directly to the landlord by the district office. Therefore, when applying for AsylbLG benefits, the bank details of the landlord are required.

Does the district office provide sample contracts?

No. You can find corresponding templates on the Internet, e.g. at the German Tenants' Association.

Where do refugees get furniture from?

Please contact the respective municipality or the helper groups there. Furniture stores such as SOFA in Bad Kissingen only sell pieces of furniture to people who are entitled to by the "Möbelbezugschein"; Ukrainians are currently not entitled to do this.

1.3 Social benefits/financial support for refugees

Social benefits

Refugees can apply for benefits under the Asylum Seekers Benefits Act (AsylbLG). For this you need the following documents:

- Original identity documents

- Birth and Marriage Certificates
- Resident registration confirmation (from the respective municipality)
- Rental contract (the rent is transferred directly to the landlord)

The application must be submitted to the social welfare administration (district office), a prior appointment is not necessary. Please note our opening times!

From June 1, 2022, the job center will be responsible for social benefits!

All affected persons will receive the application documents from the job center in good time.

How are the refugees paid out?

From the 1st working day of each month, you can collect the check from the municipality where you have registered. The checks are always valid until the end of the month.

Approximately how long does it take to process benefits applications and money "arrives"?

We strive to process applications as promptly as possible. The exact duration depends on the number of applications, which cannot be predicted at the moment. Processing currently takes about 7 to 14 days.

1.4 Medical Care

Where can refugees go in a medical emergency?

In an emergency directly to a hospital. If you need to see a family doctor or a specialist, please contact the social welfare office of the district office directly.

Do the refugees have health insurance?

They may have travel or international health insurance. In addition, an existing entitlement to benefits from the Asylum Seekers Benefits Act includes health insurance (from the time of the Application). If you have to see a doctor, you should request a treatment certificate from the social welfare office at least one day before the appointment. It is valid for a quarter and can be picked up from the following day (without an appointment) or, if desired, sent directly to the doctor's office. To apply for treatment certificates, please use our contact form.

1.5 Employment

Are refugees allowed to work?

People seeking protection from Ukraine are allowed to work as soon as they have a suitable permit have received a residence permit or at least a so-called fictional certificate with the addition "employment permitted". The application for a residence permit according to §24 AufenthG is submitted to the district office. After 4-6 weeks, the residence permit can be "picked up" there, it also includes an employment permit. You can find the application here.

Anyone who would like to advertise a serious job for refugees free of charge can do so, among other things, on the job finder portal of Wirtschaftsunioren Bad Kissingen

Do you have a serious job offer for refugees?

Anyone who would like to advertise a serious job for refugees free of charge can do so, among other things, on the job finder portal of the Wirtschaftsunioren Bad Kissingen and via the following offers (Sprungbrett, Lehrstellenradar, IHK Lehrstellenbörse, IHK Praktikumsbörse).

1.6 Kindergarten and School

Where can the children of refugees be registered for daycare/kindergarten?

If there is a place available, parents can register their children directly in the day-care center/kindergarten of their choice. To do this, they must contact the relevant kindergarten/day care center or their provider directly.

Where can refugee children be registered for school?

After registration in the municipality of residence, the Bad Kissingen school authority will receive a notification. You will then automatically receive a letter to which school/welcome class your child will be assigned.

1.7 Donations and Voluntary Offers of Help for Refugees

How can I donate money?

We do not accept monetary donations. If you want to donate, please contact the recognized aid organizations. E.g. with Aktion Deutschland Hilft e.V., Caritas International or similar.

I would like to support the refugees with donations in kind - where can I hand them in?

On the one hand, you can contact your respective municipality directly.

In addition, the BRK, district association Bad Kissingen, has set up a pop-up store for the Ukraine aid (Schefflerstraße 1, Bad Kissingen). It opens on April 25, 2022 and is staffed Monday to Thursday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Donations in kind are needed in the form of household goods of all kinds (from cutlery and pans to toasters - only small appliances) and bedding of all kinds (from pillows to bed linen to woolen blankets).

Larger electrical appliances such as washing machines, stoves, etc. can be damaged by the limited space unfortunately not be accepted. However, the BRK would forward these devices. Please take photos of the device and send them via WhatsApp to 0151/213 238 15, stating your name and address. Alternatively, the photos can also be sent by email: info@kvbad-kissingen.brk.de.

I would like to volunteer for refugees - where can I register?

Again, please contact your respective municipality directly, many have set up help groups and/or know where help is needed. You can also register your offer of help (interpreter, living space, etc.) in the district of Bad Kissingen on the website of the Bavarian Ministry of the Interior at www.ukraine-hilfe.bayern.de.

If you would like to offer your help as an interpreter, you can also email us at ukraine-hilfe@kg.de. In addition to your contact details (name, address, telephone number, e-mail), please let us know when you are available.

1.8 Questions about Corona

Corona: Do the refugees have to be in quarantine?

No, since February 27 Ukraine is no longer a high-risk area, so there is no quarantine requirement when entering Germany.

Can the refugees in the district be vaccinated against Corona?

Yes! We offer every Ukrainian a vaccination. You can come to the Bad Kissingen vaccination center during normal opening hours (www.kg.de/impfzentrum). Proof of identity (passport, identity card) is required. It also makes sense to have a caregiver who can translate, as there are no interpreters available in the vaccination center. Vaccination is free.

1.9 Other Questions

Do Ukrainian driver's licenses need to be rewritten?

Ukrainian driving licenses continue to be valid without restrictions for 6 months after taking up residence in Germany. After that, the Ukrainian driving license must be rewritten. Information and contact persons of the driving license authority of the district of Bad Kissingen can be found here.

Can I continue to drive my vehicle with a Ukrainian license plate?

The Ukrainian approval is valid for up to 1 year. The vehicles are usually insured with the green insurance card. As soon as you decide to stay permanently in the district of Bad Kissingen, your vehicle must be registered with a German license plate. Information and contact persons of the registration authority of the district of Bad Kissingen you can get here.

"Wohin du willst" App NOW ALSO AVAILABLE IN UKRAINIAN

Since 2019, the mobility app "Wohin-Du-Willst" has been available to help you get around the district of Bad Kissingen by public transport: The free app, which is available for both iOS and Android devices, combines all transport connections in the region - and beyond. This means you can always call up the latest information directly on your smartphone or tablet.

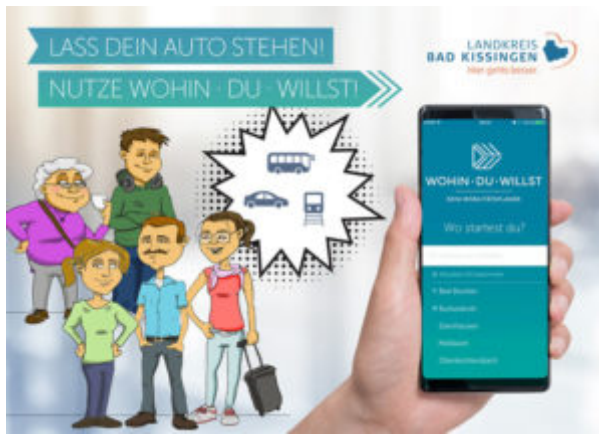

The app includes the timetables of buses, trains and even carpooling via an interface to BlaBlaCar. In this way, "Wohin-Du-Willst" quickly finds the departure times of the means of transport, always up-to-date. The app also quickly provides further information, such as the number of stops to be made, transfer options and any delays. Another special advantage: the fare is also displayed in the app.

The Hammelburg and Münnerstadt community buses are also included with their connections. You also have the option of booking call buses via the app.

Try it!

- Set mobile settings to Ukrainian and download the app
- Select UKRAINE region
- Search for train or bus connection

Yours

Thomas Bold
District Administrator of the district of Bad Kissingen

The Integreat app for the district of Bad Kissingen was administered from July 2021 to September 2022 as part of the AMIF project at the Bad Kissingen District Office. The project was co-financed by the European Asylum, Migration and Integration Fund (AMIF) in the area of "Integration of third-country nationals".

Things to know about the district of Bad Kissingen

The district of Bad Kissingen is located in the administrative district of Lower Franconia and is part of the Main-Rhön region. The Franconian Saale River runs through the district – during the summer, you can take a small ship, the “Dampferle”, down the river from Bad Kissinger Rosengarten to Saline, or explore the landscape along the Saale by canoe.

The nearby Rhön Mountains are a group of low mountains located at the intersection of the German states of Bavaria, Hesse and Thüringen. The Rhön Mountains feature many different hiking trails and is known for its raised bogs, impressive vistas and many plants and animals that are protected by wildlife conservation laws. The highest peak in the Rhön range is the Wasserkuppe (950 metres above sea level); a great idea for a family outing is visiting it along with the nearby Kreuzberg, Schwarzes Moor and Rotes Moor.

The district of Bad Kissingen is also known as a “health resort district” because it includes the three Bavarian state spa towns Bad Bocklet, Bad Brückenau and Bad Kissingen. This also means the district is known by another name: the “health region”.

Important Documents

Residence permit

Many non-German nationals have an identification card (Ausweis). Your identification card provides details on your status and whether restrictions apply for any potential employment ("when am I allowed to work?").

There are 5 types of documents:

1. Proof of arrival (Ankunftsnachweis)

Status: Asylum requested (Asylbegehrende)

Background: Issued to non-German nationals who have requested asylum. Valid from the time of request for asylum and the official application for asylum at the Federal Office for Migration and Refugees (BAMF).

2. Temporary residence permit (Aufenthaltsgestattung)

Status: Asylum seeker (Asylsuchende)

Background: Issued for the implementation of an asylum procedure up until the decision of the Federal Office for Migration and Refugees (BAMF).

The ID card for asylum seekers includes conditions of employment, housing situation and initial territorial limitations.

- If an employment permit is required, this can be applied for at the Immigration Office (employer or employee)
- Responsible for work placements: »»Federal Employment Agency

3. Temporary residence permit (Fiktionsbescheinigung)

Status: Recognised asylum seekers

Background: Transition document valid for the period after your application for asylum has been granted, until you receive your residence permit.

4. Residence permit

Status: Recognised asylum seekers

Background: Asylum granted

The residence permit grants temporary residence. It is issued in accordance with the Residence Act (e.g. residence for humanitarian reasons).

- Basis for a permanent residence permit
- This opens up the option for a future indefinite right of residence (settlement permit)
- Generally unrestricted access to the labour market without the need for a work permit
- Responsibility for work placements or financial services: »»Job Centre

5. Temporary postponement of deportation (Duldung)

Status: People with temporary postponement of deportation (Geduldete)

Background: Rejected asylum application

A "Duldung" is a temporary postponement of deportation and does NOT grant you legal residence! This document is only granted if deportation is impossible due to legal, factual, humanitarian, or personal reasons.

- General regulation for temporary legal suspension of deportation for certain groups by order of the highest state authority for a maximum duration of 3 months ("suspension of deportation")
- As a general rule, a work permit is necessary; apply to the »»Immigration Office (employer or employee)
- Responsible for work placements: »»Federal Employment Agency

Application for asylum

Are you registered in Germany and living in shared accommodation? What happens next?

The next steps are outlined here:

1. personal application for asylum

- You apply for asylum at the Federal Office for Migration and Refugees (BAMF).
- Important: You can only submit your application in person, you cannot send it by post.
- You will receive the date and the responsible BAMF office with your proof of arrival.

2. first interview appointment (asylum application)

- You must report to the 🌐 »»Ausländerbehörde after your first appointment.

3. personal interview

- The second interview appointment is the actual interview. The BAMF will decide on your asylum application. It will then send you a decision.

a) The decision is negative

- If the decision is negative and you wish to contest it (i.e. you do not agree with it), go immediately to your  "Refugee and integration counselling centre. They will discuss with you what you can do and can put you in touch with specialised lawyers.
- If you decide to leave voluntarily, you can receive financial support for your new start in your home country  "Return counselling

b) The decision is positive, i.e. you are recognised. What are the next steps?

Fictitious certificate or electronic residence permit (eAT): Immediately after the BAMF decision has been delivered, it is necessary to take care of an identity document or equivalent:

"Foreigners' Registration Office

Job centre: You will no longer receive your money from the social welfare office, but must submit an application to the  "Job Centre.

Family asylum

For the purposes of family asylum, the following count as family members

- the spouse or registered civil partner
- unmarried minor children
- the parents of unmarried minor children
- other adults who are the legal guardians of unmarried minor children
- underage unmarried siblings of minors

The prerequisite for a spouse is that

- the effective marriage already existed in the country of origin
- the application for asylum was made before, or at the same time as, the partner entitled to protection. At the latest immediately after entry
- the authorisation for protection is not to be revoked

Born in Germany:

A baby is born in Germany after the parents have applied for asylum. Under certain conditions, a separate asylum procedure can then be applied for for the baby.

At least one parent must still be in the asylum procedure. The parents or the immigration authority must inform the BAMF of the birth.

The asylum application is then automatically deemed to have been submitted in the interests of the baby.

The parents can submit their own reasons for asylum for their baby. If they do not do so, the same reasons apply as for the parents. Here too, legal action can be taken against a negative decision by the Federal Office.

Likewise, and in order to protect the baby, underage children will not and must not be returned separately from their parents in the event of a negative decision.

Support groups

In many neighbourhoods, there are groups that work for you without payment. The volunteers can help you find your way around your neighbourhood, take part in leisure and sports activities and help you if you have questions about everyday life. For example, if you don't understand a letter in German or if you would like to know where there are good shopping and sports facilities or how bus travel works. Volunteers can also help you with questions about a bank account. Many volunteer groups also offer help if you would like to learn German.

If you have any questions about the help groups or if you are interested in volunteering, please contact the "Integrationslotsin" \(integration guide\).

Ergänzende unabhängige Teilhabeberatung (EUTB) des GFIs

(Adjuvant Independent Participation Counselling (EUTB) of the GFI)

Supplementary Independent Participation Counselling (EUTB) of the gfi gGmbH Schweinfurt. The EUTB advises people with disabilities or illnesses, as well as their relatives/friends and specialised agencies in the districts of Schweinfurt, Bad Kissingen, Hassfurt and Rhön-Grabfeld. The counselling is free of charge, low-threshold and independent of service providers and service providers. The counselling centre is open to everyone - regardless of whether physical or mental impairments are present or threatening.

If desired, counselling can also be provided anonymously.

The EUTB acts as a guide for those seeking advice to the right contact points, informs them about the possibilities of support services and benefits, helps with applications and provides support where there may not be a suitable contact person. This concerns all topics of life, e.g. housing - financial security - professional matters - rehabilitation.

We advise you by telephone, by e-mail and, after making an appointment, also in person. The well-trained counselling team takes its time, listens and finds the best possible solution for the respective concerns together with the person seeking advice.

The EUTB Schweinfurt of gfi gGmbH Schweinfurt is one of 500 nationwide counselling centres established in 2018 on the basis of Section 32 of the Ninth Book of the Social Code (SGB IX) and funded by the Federal Ministry of Labour and Social Affairs (BMAS).

The EUTB does not offer legal advice or support in appeal and legal action proceedings.

Integrationsfachdienst Schweinfurt (Außenstelle Bad Kissingen)

(Integration Service in Bad Kissingen)

The Schweinfurt Integration Service (ifd) has the task of making the integration of people with disabilities into working life as uncomplicated and smooth as possible and advises those affected as well as employers. Various measures provide individual counselling, support and guidance on the topic of disability in working life. The services are free of charge for employers and people with disabilities.

The tasks are divided into three main areas: transitions, placement and securing employment. The area of transitions is open to pupils with individual support needs who are accompanied from a special school or inter-company training into working life.

The placement area offers concrete help in finding a job and developing career prospects (application coaching, clarification of abilities and inclinations, as well as acquisition and internships for testing).

The Safeguarding department advises and informs people with disabilities and their employers about support and adaptation options to secure the existing job. They also provide support within the framework of occupational integration management (BEM).

A new project is the Single Point of Contact for Employers (Einheitliche Ansprechstellen für Arbeitgeber, EAA), which provides advice on work and disability as well as funding opportunities and supports the recruitment and training of people with disabilities.

A project in the area of transitions is the Individual Company Qualification within the framework of Supported Employment, or "Supported Employment" (UB) for short. Participants in this measure are assigned by the employment agency or the pension insurance institutions. Internships are used to try to find out the suitability and skills of the participants in order to get them into work.

Care Support Point in the District of Bad Kissingen

(Pflegestützpunkt Landkreis Bad Kissingen)

The care support point is aimed at all people from the district of Bad Kissingen who are looking for advice and have questions and a need for support in relation to an existing or foreseeable care situation. The care situation can concern older people, but also children and young people in need of care or disabled people.

The care support point is the contact point for people in need of care themselves as well as for their relatives and helping environment such as neighbours or friends. However, professionals such as doctors, nursing staff, inpatient facilities, social services and wards, carers or administrative staff can also contact the care support point.

The care support point acts as a guide, pilot and information provider. The counselling ranges from brief information by telephone to complex case management with the development of individual care plans.

In individual cases, the support is also designed for a longer period of time, but is not a permanent accompaniment. The care counselling ends when the person seeking advice is able to organise care themselves or no longer wants further counselling. The aim is to support self-determination in a care situation.

The Care Support Point works closely with the Juliusspital Specialist Centre for Family Caregivers of the Carl von Heß'sche Social Foundation.

Please make an appointment. Due to the corona situation, counselling appointments at the District Office are only possible by appointment. Outside opening hours, additional appointments can be made for counselling or, in justified individual cases, for home visits. Counselling is neutral and free of charge.

You can find more on this topic on the website of the Federal Ministry of Health.

German language

The key to successful integration is the language.

It is important to learn German in order to settle in well and find work in the long term. There are various offers on how and where you can learn German. The following pages will give you an overview.

Literacy courses and integration courses

The integration course is an important language course if you have been recognised as a refugee. In the course, you will learn German and find out a lot about German society and culture. This will enable you to integrate better and participate in society.

You can find detailed information on the BAMF website 🌐 "".

🌐 "" Graphical overview of the integration courses

Note: Integration courses are not for children and young people attending school.

Here you can find current and planned integration courses in the district of Bad Kissingen

There are still some places available. From 19.05.2025 second language learning course from module 1. Alpha course participants may also be suitable.

📺 Lessons: Monday to Friday from 08:30 to 12:45. End of course: probably April 2026.

📍 BSI gGmbH in Bad Kissingen, Rötgenstraße 12

🌐 Language course list for the district of Bad Kissingen 14.04.2025.pdf

You can also learn German at the Mehr Generationen Haus. In the language café, every Wednesday afternoon.

 Language Cafe

What types of courses are available?

Integration courses

- For refugees and migrants who will be living in Germany permanently. These are usually full-time courses consisting of several modules. They can last up to one year. The language target is B1. You will receive a certificate if you successfully complete the course. It is possible to repeat parts of the course if you do not pass the exam.

Integration courses with alphabetisation

- These courses are slightly longer than normal integration courses. They are for refugees and migrants who cannot yet read and write the Latin alphabet. The language target is A2 or B1. You will receive a language certificate if you successfully complete the course.

Who can attend an integration course?

- Migrants with a permanent residence permit for the Federal Republic of Germany
- EU citizens with a residence permit in Germany
- ethnic German repatriates
- Asylum seekers with good prospects of staying (currently: Iran, Iraq, Syria, Eritrea and Somalia) and recognised refugees
- Tolerated persons according to § 60a Abs, 2 S.3 AufenthG

 Here you can find detailed information

What do you need to consider?

- Authorisation to attend: If you would like to attend an integration course, you can apply for a certificate of eligibility from the BAMF ( Application for admission to an integration course).
- Obligation to attend: If you are an asylum seeker or recognised as such, you may be obliged to attend an integration course (by the Aliens Office, Social Welfare Office or Job Centre).
- Placement test: Before the course, you take a placement test with the course provider. This will check whether you can already speak some German and which section of the course you should start with.

How is the course organised?

The integration course has two parts, a language course and an orientation course:

Language course:

- 600 hours of German lessons (or 900 hours for integration courses with literacy). The language course ends with the examination: 🌐 ""Deutschtest für Zuwanderer \(DTZ\). The aim is to achieve language level B1 (or A2 for integration courses with literacy training).

Orientation course:

- Duration 100 hours. You will familiarise yourself with Germany and receive important information about the country's laws, politics, culture and history. The course ends with the 🌐 "Exam: Living in Germany.

If you pass both exams, you will receive the "Integration Course Certificate".

How much does an integration course cost?

- Participants without a BAMF authorisation certificate (self-payers) pay 390 euros per module (=100 hours).
- Participants with a BAMF authorisation certificate pay 195 euros per module (=100 hours).
- Recipients of unemployment benefit II or social assistance and participants with a very low income can be exempted from the costs altogether (🌐 "Application for cost exemption"). Jobcentre customers are automatically exempt from the costs.

Vocational language support (DeuFöV)

Job-related German courses prepare you for a job. This can improve your chances on the labour and training market. The courses combine German lessons and vocational training. The DeuFöV courses (German language support) are preparation for starting a career in Germany. You can take part in a vocational qualification programme while working or training. The employment agency or job centre decides who can take part.

Prerequisites:

Language level of at least B1. There are 3 basic modules, each with 300 teaching units. Each module concludes with a certificate examination. This allows you to reach language level C2.

Children, youth and family

Children, young people and families are under special protection in Germany. This protection begins during pregnancy. It lasts until the child is 18 years old (of age). In Germany, for example, it is forbidden to beat children. Education in Germany must not involve the use of violence. Every child must go to school. There are authorities that ensure that a child is not harmed by its environment (including the family).

Pregnancy and childbirth

Expectant mothers are under special protection in Germany and are entitled to counselling, medical care and support with new acquisitions for the child. In case of pregnancy, always visit a doctor first and have the preventive medical check-ups carried out there. You will then receive a maternity passport, which identifies you as an expectant mother and also contains important information about your state of health and the of your child. Always carry your maternity card with you in case of emergencies.

General counselling for pregnant women at the District Office

General pre-natal care offers you the following resources:

- Counselling on all personal, social, legal and financial issues
- Information about legal aid and support in making use of it
- Arranging voluntary benefits from the state foundation "Help for Mother and Child"
- Longer-term support during pregnancy and after birth
- Prenatal diagnostic counselling

These counselling services are confidential and can be anonymous if you wish. You can go to counselling alone, with your partner or with another person who you trust. The counselling sessions are free of charge and the counsellors must keep them confidential.

Childcare: Daycare centre and daycare for children

Day care centre Kita

What is a day care centre?

Kita is a term for a day-care centre for children. Here your child can make friends, learn to play and learn the German language. Attending a day care centre is an important and good preparation for school.

- Crèche
Crèches are day care centres for children under the age of three.
- Kindergarten
Kindergartens are day-care centres for children from the age of three until they start school.
- After-school care centre
After-school care centres are day-care facilities for school children. Your child can also do their school homework here.
Further offers for homework supervision
It is possible for the kindergarten to offer afternoon supervision for schoolchildren. Further information can be found in the concept of the individual kindergarten.

Kindergarten enrolment

Unfortunately, there are not always enough places in the kindergartens. Sometimes it is necessary to enquire at several kindergartens and have your child placed on the waiting list.

For the kindergartens in the Bad Kissingen municipal area, there is the option of online registration through the "Little Bird" programme .

The "Refugee and Integration Counselling Service" or the "Migration Counselling Service" can help you with the registration.

Kindergarten costs

Attending kindergarten costs money.

Under certain circumstances, the costs for kindergarten can be covered. For example, if you do not yet have a job and receive benefits from the district office or job centre. To do this, you must submit an application to the "Youth Welfare Office".

Child day care

A childminder looks after your child in their home. She looks after a maximum of five children at the same time. Childminders have attended courses in which they have learnt how to look after children properly. The Youth Welfare Office regularly inspects the home and the childminder, so you can rest assured that your child is in good hands. If you are interested in this form of childcare and would like more information, the  "Jugendamt" can help you.

You can find multilingual information on child day care at  "here"

You can find further information on the subject of day care centres (also multilingual) at  "here"

Unaccompanied foreign minors

The definition of “unaccompanied”

A foreign minor is considered unaccompanied “if they enter Germany without a parent or legal guardian”. (Federal Ministry for Family Affairs, Senior Citizens, Women and Youth)

Definition of “minor”

Any person under the age of 18 (in other words, all children and teenagers) is considered a minor (cf. Section 7(1), points 1 and 2, of SGB VIII)

What happens to unaccompanied foreign minors when they arrive in Germany

- Arrival in Germany: Learning personal data
- Provisional child custody
 - Determining age using documents, age estimation by at least two experienced social education workers
 - Medical screening (medical examination)
 - Initial discussion about reasons for asylum/fleeing home country
- Reallocation and distribution to a federal state, and eventually to a district within that state, such as Bad Kissingen
- Custody by the Youth Welfare Office, »»Jugendamt Bad Kissingen

- Clearing process: Determining whether the child/teenager needs help and working together to plan their future (guardianship, where to live, medical care, education, leisure activities)
- Accommodation for the child/teenager in a residential youth welfare institution appropriate for their level of need
- After conclusion of the residential youth welfare programme, possible follow-up support through visits and a legal guardian

You can find more information about unaccompanied foreign minors in Germany here: »»

Guardian

“A minor is given a legal guardian if they are not under the care of a parent...” (Section 1773 [1] of the BGB).

The guardian is the personal and legal contact person of the young person. This person represents and supports the young person, for example during the asylum process and when visiting public authorities.

The guardian’s duties include:

- Parenting: Having initial conversations and participating in discussions of how to plan support
- Encouraging development
- School, education, career
- Applying for asylum and support during the asylum process
- Decisions about residence (in accordance with asylum right of residence, reuniting families)
- Bringing family members to join the minor
- Managing contact, approving visits from relatives and friends
- Healthcare, approval for medical procedures, treatments and medication prescriptions
- Legal representation, e.g. during court proceedings, witness hearings by the police, etc.
- Guardianship of the minor’s property/assets, opening a bank account
- Transition of legal rights when the minor comes of age (transition from SGB VIII to SGB II)

Access to the job market

For asylum seekers and people with temporary postponement of deportation (Geduldete):

As a general rule, asylum seekers and people with temporary postponement of deportation (Geduldete) need a work permit. They must apply for this permit with the Immigration Office and it can only be granted with the consent of the Federal Employment Agency (Agentur für Arbeit) (examination of working conditions).

- There is a waiting period for the first 3 months following arrival. During this period, you are not allowed to work.

- After 3 months following arrival, you have low-priority access to the job market. The Federal Employment Agency (Agentur für Arbeit) checks whether there is a worker with preferential rights to the job and also checks the working conditions. Vocational training programmes do not need to be approved.
- Starting at the 16th month following arrival, a priority check is no longer carried out. The working conditions are checked.
- After 4 years in Germany, the Federal Employment Agency no longer needs to approve you for work, but you still need to apply for a work permit.

People eligible for asylum, recognised asylum seekers, people entitled to subsidiary protection, quota refugees:

- These groups have unrestricted access to the labour market

Individuals from safe countries of origin (at present Albania, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Ghana, Kosovo, Macedonia, Montenegro, Senegal and Serbia) who submitted their application for asylum after 31.08.2015, are generally not allowed to look for any employment.

You can find more information on “Integrating into the job market as a refugee” »»here

This is only a brief summary of detailed legal requirements. In order to obtain definite and binding information about your personal situation, please contact the competent authorities. Decisions made by the Immigration Office are discretionary decisions in each particular case.

Child and youth employment:

Child labour under 15 is generally prohibited under German law. From the age of 13, children are allowed to do light jobs suitable for them, such as delivering newspapers. These activities must not affect the health and development of the child.

Looking for work

Finding work is not always easy for people with a refugee or migration background. You often need to prove you have certain qualifications when you want to start a job. This is why recognition or assessment of qualifications acquired abroad is so important. You should also »»Learn German. This will greatly improve your chances of finding a job.

If you have already completed school or vocational education abroad, you should make sure that these qualifications are recognised. You can find more details under »»Recognition of foreign educational qualifications

Employment contracts

Anyone who starts a job gets an employment contract. This regulates the most important conditions of an employment relationship, such as working hours, holiday entitlement, salary and notice periods. Both sides – workers and employers – must abide by these agreements. Because a contract is legally binding once you have signed it, you should only sign it when you understand its content completely.

Types of contracts:

Permanent job contract (Unbefristeter Arbeitsvertrag)

As a general rule, there is a probationary period of three to six months. During this time, the employment relationship can be terminated at short notice within two weeks, both by the employer and the employee. At the end of the probationary period, a permanent employment relationship begins with longer protection against dismissal. Working hours are usually up to 40 hours a week.

Fixed-term job contract (Befristeter Arbeitsvertrag)

The employment ends at the agreed time, without the need for notice of resignation.

Minijob

The maximum monthly salary is € 520 and is not taxed.

Taxes and social security payments:

Every employee in Germany pays part of their wages as taxes to finance federal, state and local government spending. Employers, in turn, are required to pay social security contributions for their employees. The German social system thus aims to make sure that if people can't find work, or are no longer able to work, their key living costs will still be covered.

Tax ID number:

The tax ID is a 11-digit number and is used for income tax. The employer needs this number. If you do not have this number in your documents, you can ask for it personally at the registration office (Meldebehörde) or in writing from the Federal Tax Office (Bundesamt für Steuern).

Social security number:

For a job, you need a social security number. This can be obtained from your health insurer (e.g. AOK, DAK).

Undeclared work (Schwarzarbeit):

A job that is paid but not registered with the tax office and a health insurer, and for which thus no taxes and social security payments are paid, is illegal and is referred to in Germany as "Schwarzarbeit". It can be punished with fines and prison! If someone gets social benefits or unemployment benefits, but still works and keeps their job secret from the Social Welfare Office, the Employment Agency and the Job Centre, this is also called "Schwarzarbeit". A person is thus wrongly receiving state benefits, even though they are in paid employment.

Recognition of education certificates gained outside Germany

Certificates (also known as credentials) play an important role in Germany for school, studies or jobs. Certificates are used to demonstrate what people have learned and accomplished. Certificates are the main prerequisite for getting a job or for being admitted to a school or university. So if you have already earned certificates abroad at school, in an apprenticeship or in a university, you should make sure that these certificates are recognised in Germany. This means that your certificates will be used to check what type of work / vocational training / school you are qualified for in Germany.

It may be that you no longer have your certificates with you. In this case, you can try to have your professional experience and professional abilities recognised by passing some tests.

First, you need to speak to your contact person at the »»Federal Employment Agency \(Agentur für Arbeit\) or »»Job Centre.

Recognition of school-leaving certificates (secondary school degrees):

The Central Certificate Recognition Bureau is responsible for the evaluation of non-Bavarian school-leaving certificates.

Recognition of professional foreign qualifications:

A flyer from the Federal Office for Migration and Asylum Seekers with information on the recognition procedure is available in different languages

»»German

»»English

Regulated professions: In order to pursue professional activities in Germany, a professional qualification and its respective recognition are both obligatory (e.g. for doctors, educators)

Non-regulated professions: Recognition is not necessary, but it is useful for practicing the profession in Germany (e.g. mechanics, industrial clerks)

As different authorities are responsible for recognizing your professional qualifications for different professions, the following online service is helpful for finding the right recognition authority. You will also find a lot of other information on these websites:

Vocational training

After the successful completion of secondary school education or the »»vocational integration year at the vocational school, the primary goal is to start vocational training.

Vocational training usually takes three years in Germany. It includes practical training in a company and, at the same time, theoretical training in a vocational school. This is called a dual training system. It is not possible to learn a profession without going to school!

You can simultaneously learn theory and practice while earning money at a company during your apprenticeship.

You can also do a vocational training programme in a school – see »»Vocational schools

Who can help you?

Career orientation

Internship

One good way to get started in the job market in Germany is through an internship. This can get you your first professional experiences in a new culture and improve your language skills. An internship can often be the start of vocational training.

Who can do an internship?

- Recognised asylum seekers: Before starting a internship, be sure to speak with someone at the »»Job Centre. The internship must be approved by the Job Centre.
- Asylum seekers and people with temporary postponement of deportation (Geduldete): An internship is a form of employment and must therefore be approved by the »»Immigration Office. If a internship lasts longer than three months, approval from the »»Federal Employment Agency \(Agentur für Arbeit\) is necessary. In the case of a “trial working period at an employer” for jobless asylum seekers or people with temporary postponement of deportation, no approval from the Immigration Office is required.

Therefore, it is fundamental that you contact the Immigration Office and/or your counsellor at the Employment Agency before beginning the internship.

How do I find an internship?

- In the Integreat app, you can find all current internships or apprenticeships in the district of Bad Kissingen in the top tab, under “Extra”
- You can enquire directly about doing an internship at a company that interests you
- You can also ask your advisor at the »»Employment Agency or the »»Job Centre or look at the »»job listings posted by the Employment Agency

A voluntary social year (Freiwilliges Soziales Jahr - FSJ)

One good alternative to an internship is the voluntary social year (FSJ). If you have completed compulsory education and are under 27, you can gain valuable experience at a social and/or cultural institution for about 1 year.

You can find more information here: fsjkultur-bayern.de

An FSJ must also be approved by the »»Immigration Office if you don't have an unrestricted work permit.

Career orientation for refugees (BOF)

The “career orientation for refugees” programme offers you the chance to get to know a range of skilled professions requiring vocational training. You will receive a qualification in the technical language of the field and will be given individual support. The BOF is divided between days in the workshop and days at a company.

Job applications

If you would like to start a vocational training programme (Ausbildung) or get a job in Germany, you need to submit a written application.

Usually, you apply to a company that posted a job vacancy. Posting a vacancy means that the company is looking for new employees. The job advertisement describes what type of work or vocational training it involves and what the company expects of the employee. It also includes information about where and how to apply.

If the company is interested in you, you will normally be invited to a job interview, which gives you a chance to introduce yourself in person. Please plan enough time for the interview and absolutely make sure to arrive on time for your appointment. Before the interview, you should prepare thoroughly and do research on the company. Take a look at the company's website and read about its history; research the products or services it offers. Arriving on time for your appointment and asking questions during the interview demonstrates your motivation for and interest in the vocational training programme or job.

Cover letter:

In your personal cover letter, you briefly introduce yourself and say why you are suitable for the vacant position. For example, describe what previous experience you have gained in your home country. Find out about the company and explain why you want to work there. Your cover letter should fit on one page. Sign your cover letter. There are many templates and guides online. It is important to not simply copy something you find. Your cover letter needs to be unique to you and suitable for the position.

CV:

The CV (curriculum vitae) lists your entire experience and is set out in the form of a table. Write the dates during which you worked with each company. Write where and when you undertook training or a course of studies. Write down where you went to primary/secondary school and what type of degree you graduated with. You do not have to include a photo in your CV, but many companies prefer it if you do. However, if you want to use a photo, do not take a selfie. Use a professional application photo created with a photographer.

Credentials and references:

It is very important that you include copies of your credentials and references in the application (do not send the original documents!). Credentials are your school-leaving certificate, your university degree and any job references from the past. They should be in German or English – if they are not, you should have them translated. You should also send certificates from any internships, work-relevant professional development courses, or German courses you have taken.

How do you send in your application?

The job advert provides information about how to apply. Follow the instructions exactly.

In writing:

Buy a nice application folder and insert your cover letter, CV, and credentials and references. Put your application materials into a large envelope (don't fold or crease the pages!) and send the application by post to the address mentioned in the job advertisement.

Email:

Many applications are now sent by email. Compile your cover letter, your CV, certificates and references into a single PDF file. Add the PDF file as an attachment to the email. Write a short text in the email to the person who will receive your application.

Online:

Large companies have their own website through which you have to apply. You need to register with your email address before you can send your application through the website.

Some more helpful tips for your application:

- The Job Centre in Bad Kissingen provides a work area with a computer and printer where you can easily write and print out your application

Schools and education

Childcare: Daycare centre and daycare for children

Day care centre Kita

Kita is a term for children's daycare centres. Here your child can make friends, learn to play, learn and/or improve the German language. Attending a day care centre is an important and good preparation for school.

Day nursery

- Crèches are day-care centres that mainly cater for children under the age of three .

Kindergarten

- Kindergartens are day-care centres that mainly cater for children aged three to school age .

After-school care centre

- After-school care centres are day-care centres that mainly cater for schoolchildren . Your child can also do their school homework here. Depending on how full the kindergarten is, it may also offer afternoon care for schoolchildren.

Kindergarten enrolment:

There are too few places in the kindergartens. It is necessary to enquire at several kindergartens or have your child placed on the waiting list.

Kindergartens in the Bad Kissingen municipal area can register online via the programme  "Little Bird"

 "Refugee and integration counselling" can help you with the registration process

Kindergarten costs:

Attending kindergarten costs money.

Under certain circumstances, the costs for kindergarten can be covered. For example, if you do not yet have a job and receive benefits from the district office or job centre. To do this, you must submit an application to  "Jugendamt".

Child day care

A childminder looks after your child in their home. She looks after a maximum of five children at the same time. Childminders have attended courses in which they have learnt how to look after children properly. The Youth Welfare Office regularly inspects the home and the childminder. If you are interested in this form of childcare and would like more information, please contact  "Jugendamt".

School system

The Bavarian school system

Every state in Germany has its own school system. You can find an overview in various languages about the school system in Bavaria here:

»»German

»»English

»»Arabic

The most important types of schools are presented in short here:

Primary school (Grundschule)

All children start attending primary school when they are 6. In Years 1-4, they learn reading, writing and basic mathematics. Depending on their grades and the recommendation made by the teachers in the fourth-grade intermediate certificate, the children then go to a secondary school.

Basic secondary school (Mittelschule)

This type of school mainly prepares students for the working world. Besides theoretical knowledge, the emphasis is on practical knowledge and skills. Basic secondary school lasts 5-6 years. Basic secondary schools offer several different degrees, such as "Qualifying Basic Secondary School Degree" ("Qualifizierender Abschluss Mittelschule") and "Basic School-Leaving Degree - Basic Secondary School" ("Mittlerer Schulabschluss - Mittelschule")

Standard secondary school (Realschule)

More independent learning is expected than at the basic secondary school, and the children acquire a more advanced general education. Pupils at this kind of school will learn a second foreign language, for example. Compared to the higher-level grammar school (Gymnasium), students in a standard secondary school have a more work-related education. The leaving certificate of the Realschule (referred to as the "Realschulabschluss") generally provides the basis for more advancement in professions of all kinds.

Grammar school (Gymnasium)

Grammar school lasts 8 or 9 years, finishing with a final exam, the university entrance certificate (also called the "Abitur"). Compared to the standard and basic secondary schools, more personal responsibility is expected from these students. They will be prepared not for professional/vocational life, but rather primarily for university studies.

Special needs school (Förderschule)

Children who cannot be adequately supported in general classroom education due to disability can be individually supported and mentored at special needs schools. The class size in special needs schools is smaller compared to regular schools.

School

Important information

Compulsory education:

Children and teenagers (ages 6 through 15) who are required to attend school

In Germany, there is something called “Schulpflicht” (“compulsory education”). The parents of children have a duty to ensure that their children attend school regularly. It costs nothing to attend school. If compulsory education is not respected, either the parents will be held accountable or the child themselves (ages 14 and up), and a fine may be charged.

The new school year starts in September for all schools.

Teenagers who must attend vocational school (ages 16 through 21)

Teenagers between the ages of 16 and 21 are required to attend vocational school. They need to enrol with the »»Berufsschule Bad Kissingen.

School enrolment:

School enrolment for your child is usually done at the school itself.

Important: Be sure to bring your child and the following documents with you:

- Your ID, your birth certificate or your arrival certificate (Ankunftsnachweis)
- Registration certificate from the Immigration Office (Ausländerbehörde)
- All documents concerning your child (ID, birth certificate, other certificates, medical certificates, etc.)

You can see an overview of the schools in the district of Bad Kissingen »»here.

Letters from the school:

The school often gives children written information to take home with them and give to their parents. It is important that you read this information. If you find it hard to understand these letters, ask your »»Refugee and Integration Counselling centre or your »»Help Centre for someone who can help you.

Informing the school that your child is ill:

Please call the school before the first lesson of the day begins if your child is ill. State your child’s name and which class they are in. Otherwise, the school is obliged to look for your child, and will contact the police if necessary. You may have to pay a penalty in this case.

School transportation costs:

In principle, the cost for buses and trains to school can be reimbursed as long as your child's school is more than 2 kilometres away (1st to 4th class) or 3 kilometres away (5th class and older). For primary and middle schools, applications for reimbursement of travel costs are usually handled by the school itself. The »»Landratsamt (District Administrative Office) is responsible for secondary schools.

Education and participation

With the Education and Participation Package, it is possible to receive financial support for your child for school lunches, school supplies, membership fees for cultural or sports clubs or money for participating in school trips. Your application must be submitted to the »»Landratsamt \(District Administrative Office\).

You must always submit the application before you pay for something yourself. If you have already paid for something, you will not get the money back.

School holidays

School holidays are the times each year when there is no school for pupils. In Bavaria, in general, the new school year starts in September every year.

In early November, there is one week of autumn holidays. For Christmas and the New Year, there are two weeks of Christmas holidays. In February, there is one week of winter holidays. In spring/early summer, there are also two weeks of holidays (Easter and Pentecost). In summer, the school year ends at the end of July/beginning of August with six weeks of summer holidays.

You can find a list of school holidays in Bavaria »»here.

Youth Welfare Service (Jugendsozialarbeit) at schools

Goals:

The Youth Welfare Service at schools (JaS) is a service to support young people and significantly improves equality in terms of education and opportunities.

It is designed for young people with social and educational problems. It is intended to improve their chances for participating in society and for leading their lives independently and be part of their community.

Target group:

The Youth Welfare Service at schools (JaS) works with young people attending the school who need more support than others. It helps them integrate socially and improve their educational experience. JaS cooperates with parents, legal guardians, teachers and other counselling services.

The service is free, voluntary and non-binding. The conversations are subject to confidentiality.

Areas of responsibility:

- Counselling for young people (individual help)
- Help with learning social skills and good work skills
- Help with dealing with conflict
- Support with social integration by making contacts in the community
- Counselling for parents/guardians

Vocational school (16-21 years) - Vocational integration classes

Young people between the ages of 16 and 21 are required to attend vocational school. They must attend vocational school. Either as part of a "vocational training programme" or in vocational integration classes (BIK).

In vocational integration classes, you learn German and are prepared for a profession. You can obtain a secondary school leaving certificate in two years. In exceptional cases, young people up to the age of 25 can also attend vocational integration classes.

Vocational integration classes ("Flyer of the vocational school Bad Kissingen")

Year 1: BIK-V (preliminary class to the vocational integration class)

The focus is on language acquisition, possibly with literacy training. At the end of the school year there is a certificate of achievement.

2nd year: BIK (vocational integration class)

Existing language skills are consolidated and a new focus is placed on preparing for (vocational) training, for example through an internship. It is possible to complete the vocational integration class with a secondary school leaving certificate if you perform well.

Please enrol directly at the ""Berufsschule Bad Kissingen . When you register, the vocational school will invite you to a placement test. This test will take place in July. The vocational school will inform you of the exact date in advance in a letter.

Special classes -

Obtaining a basic secondary diploma / Abitur preparation

»»Flyer

In special classes, young adults whose first language is not German have the opportunity to take their Abitur exams. During the first two years, "German as a foreign language" is the main focus of the classes. As an intermediate goal, students can obtain the basic secondary school diploma if they pass the first two years.

These special classes have 12-15 students and the following focal points:

- Intensive support in learning German as a foreign language
- Establishing a solid foundation in English
- Review and consolidation of the foundations of mathematics and science
- Introduction to the basic aspects of social and political life in Germany

Pre-requisites for admission:

- a minimum age of 18
- basic German skills (level: B1)
- a completed vocational training programme or temporary employment - if not, having responsibility for a family or similar
- permanent residency in Germany

University study

General information

University studies

General information

Refugees also have the opportunity to study at universities in Germany. However, they must fulfil the same prerequisites as other foreign students.

Prerequisites:

- You need a university entrance qualification

If you do not have an Abitur degree from a German school, you need to check whether the secondary school degree you obtained in your home country is sufficient for you to enter a German university (»»www.anabin.de)

- You need to have excellent German language skills (language level: C1)

To prove your knowledge of German, you must have one of the following:

- DSH (Level 2)

- Test DaF (Level 4)

- Telc (C1 HS)

- or a similar test

- Make note of the deadlines by which you need to apply for a course of study. As a general rule, these deadlines are

- 15 January for the following summer semester

- 15 July for the following winter semester

Fees:

For a bachelor's degree, there is no longer any contribution required in order to study at state universities, but there is a semester fee. The amount of the requested fees depends on the university.

As a student in Germany, it is possible to receive financial support through the Bundesausbildungsförderungsgesetz, a federal act for promoting higher education referred to as "BAföG" for short. You must pay back half of the BAföG total after completing your course of study. Information is available at your respective university or here: »»BAföG for Immigrants and Refugees

Kiron Higher Education

Refugees and asylum seekers often face difficulties when trying to gain access to higher level education.

Kiron Higher Education offers this possibility free of tuition fees and without the need for other legal documents usually required to study.

The first two years of the degree programme takes place on the Internet with online courses. All courses are offered in English. However, it is possible to add subtitles in any language. The third year of study takes place on campus at one of Kiron's partner universities.

There is also the possibility to learn German during the course of study. Additional various supports and advice are also on offer.

Health

In the event of acute illnesses and pain, they are entitled to basic medical care. You are also entitled to every officially recommended immunisation and check-up. In addition, you will receive free medical services that are essential to safeguard your health.

See a doctor if:

- you are acutely ill or in pain
- you are pregnant
- you are chronically ill, e.g. if you have diabetes, epilepsy or mental illness. Bring any remaining medication or the package leaflet for your medication with you when you visit the doctor. If you have already been to the doctor or hospital because of the illness, bring the results with you.

Important: As soon as you have a residence permit, you must register with a regular health insurance company. There you will receive an insurance card and are entitled to the same benefits as all residents in Germany.

Visiting a doctor

General practitioners (“family doctors”):

In Germany, everyone has a family doctor. If you are ill, you go to this doctor. You can choose your own doctor.

Your family doctor will give you a general check-up and is your first point of contact when you are ill. The doctor also decides what medication you need and whether you need to see a specialist.

Doctors' surgeries/practice centres are usually open from Monday to Friday. Each doctor always has different opening hours. It is better to make an appointment with the doctor beforehand.

If you need a special examination, your family doctor will send you to a specialist or to the hospital with a "referral".

Consult your doctor when

- You are acutely ill or in pain
- You are chronically ill (for example with diabetes). If you have any medicine or your medicine packaging, bring it with you to the doctor. If you have already been to the doctor or hospital because of your illness, please bring the doctor's report.
- You are pregnant

Health care using asylum seekers' benefits:

Asylum seekers who are already in the process of applying for asylum receive health care through the asylum seeker benefit authority (Asylbewerberleistungsbehörde) (»»Social Welfare Office) in the District Administrative Office (Landratsamt). You will receive a medical treatment certificate there. Every family member gets their own medical treatment certificate. You need to get this certificate before visiting the doctor, and it means that going to the doctor is free for you.

You are entitled to

- Basic medical care for acute illness and pain
- Medical care during pregnancy
- Vaccinations
- Preventative check-ups

Once you have a »»residence permit, you must register with a health insurance provider!

Healthcare from a health insurance provider:

Once you have a residence permit, you must register with a health insurance provider. You also have a right to health insurance with a health insurance provider if you have been in Germany for 15 months and have not yet received a positive asylum decision. You must choose your health insurance provider yourself. You will receive an insurance card from this health insurance provider. You need to bring this card with you to any doctor's appointments. If you are insured through the health insurance provider, you are entitled to the same benefits from any doctor as all other legally insured people.

The basic medical care of the health insurance provider includes:

- Services to prevent and alleviate diseases

- Services during pregnancy
- Services for the detection of diseases
- Services for the treatment of diseases

Paediatricians:

Children are usually examined by paediatricians. Regular check-ups and vaccinations by the paediatrician are important for the health of each child. These check-ups are called "U-Untersuchungen" and in some cases are mandatory.

Gynaecologists:

It is important that women are regularly examined by a gynaecologist. This helps detect illnesses early enough to treat them. This is called screening. You can also discuss contraception there.

Dentists:

If you have toothache, you go to the dentist.

If you need an appointment with the dentist, the asylum seeker benefits authority (»»Social Welfare Office) issues a dental treatment certificate – this is only possible for treating acute problems.

Specialists:

If necessary, your family doctor will refer you to a specialist who can carry out specific tests.

A referral to the specialist must be verified by the asylum seeker benefits authority (»»Social Welfare Office) before the appointment. You can go to the specialist doctor only after being approved.

Emergency medical services

Medical on-call service:

If you need a doctor at night or on weekends, but there is no emergency, you can call the free hotline for on-call medical services. If it is possible, you will be immediately connected with the nearest on-call service.

Medical on-call service: Tel. 116117

ZANZU My body in word and pictures

»»Zanzu is a website on health.

It provides information in thirteen languages (for example, Arabic, English and Farsi) on the following topics: your body, family planning and pregnancy, infection, sexuality, relationships and feelings, your rights and the law.

Pregnancy and childbirth

Expectant mothers are under special protection in Germany and are entitled to counselling, medical care and support with new acquisitions for the child. In case of pregnancy, always visit a doctor first and have the preventive medical check-ups carried out there. You will then receive a maternity passport, which identifies you as an expectant mother and also contains important information about your state of health and the of your child. Always carry your maternity card with you in case of emergencies.

General counselling for pregnant women at the District Office

General pre-natal care offers you the following resources:

- Counselling on all personal, social, legal and financial issues
- Information about legal aid and support in making use of it
- Arranging voluntary benefits from the state foundation "Help for Mother and Child"
- Longer-term support during pregnancy and after birth
- Prenatal diagnostic counselling

These counselling services are confidential and can be anonymous if you wish. You can go to counselling alone, with your partner or with another person who you trust. The counselling sessions are free of charge and the counsellors must keep them confidential.

Delivery and aftercare:

Your gynaecologist will refer you to a maternity clinic. In advance, ask for a midwife for post-natal care. You will receive a birth confirmation letter from the clinic.

You can find contacts to midwives »»here

Initial equipment:

As an asylum seeker, you will generally receive from the »»Social Welfare Office additional money and initial equipment for the child. Please get in contact with your claims administrator as soon as you have received your maternity record book (Mutterpass).

Report to the registry office:

Newborn children must be reported to the registry office and the accommodation management. The maternity clinic reports the birth to the Registry Office. There you will receive the (possibly provisional) birth certificate for your child together with your ID, the birth certificate from the clinic and, if available, your marriage certificate. Please give your accommodation manager a copy of the birth certificate so that your child can be registered.

Note: Please submit only original documents. For documents in a foreign language, an officially certified German translation is required.

Medication and pharmacies

If you need medication, you can get a prescription from your doctor. Medicines in Germany are almost exclusively found in pharmacies.

Pharmacies are identified from the outside by a red "A".

Prescription medicines:

Prescription medicines are only available if a doctor has issued you with a prescription. With the prescription, you can go to a pharmacy and get the medicine that the doctor has indicated for you. Not all prescription medicines are free.

Medicines that do not require a prescription:

You can buy medicines that do not require a prescription at any time in the pharmacy, without having been to a doctor before. For example, many medicines for colds or pain are available without a prescription.

Important: make sure that you take the right dose of the medicine as specified by your doctor or pharmacist. Do not take medicine for longer than recommended!

Pharmacy hours:

Pharmacies are generally open from Monday to Saturday. The exact hours vary for each pharmacy. If you urgently need medication at night or at weekends, you will find a sign at every pharmacy with the name and address of a pharmacy that is open for emergency services. This information can also be found on the Internet.

Emergency numbers – SOS

Only in the event of an emergency may you go to the hospital without a medical treatment certificate. An emergency is an acute threat to health. Do not forget your proof of arrival/ID! At the hospital, you must show your proof of arrival/ID in order to prove that you are an asylum seeker and the costs are covered by Social Services. If you are already registered with a health insurance company, bring your insurance card with you!

Emergency contacts:

Tel.: 110 Police

Tel.: 112 Fire department, emergency services

Tel.: 112 Ambulance, emergency medical services

Emergency numbers always work on mobile phones, even with pre-paid cards without credit/money!

Important information when calling 112:

- Who is calling? (your name)
- Where has something happened? (address)
- What has happened?
- How many injured or ill people are there?
- What type of injuries or illnesses are there?
- Wait for questions!

Stay calm. Remain calm and speak clearly so that it is easy to understand you. Do not end the call. The emergency service/police will end the call when all necessary information has been submitted.

Everyday life and Leisure Activities

Are you new in Germany?! Moving to a foreign country brings with it a lot of questions and a lot of work. Everyday life or some German ways of life must be foreign to many refugees and migrants. To make it little easier to get around in your everyday life, here are a few practical tips.

Mobility / transport

All relevant places in [Stadt] and the surrounding areas can be easily reached by public transport ([verfügbare Verkehrsmittel in der Stadt, Bus, U Bahn etc.]). A healthy, economical and environmentally friendly alternative to getting from A to B is by bicycle.

Public transport

Bus

The bus is available to everyone. You need a valid ticket for every journey. Travelling without a ticket (fare dodging) is punished and you will have to pay a fine (minimum € 60.00). You buy your bus ticket directly from the bus driver. Have small change and coins ready.

Information about 🌐 bus connections

Fare:

The district of Bad Kissingen is divided into so-called honeycombs. You can use this to determine your journey and the fare yourself.

Fare information

Offer for school pupils and trainees: (Flyer)

All pupils, vocational school students or trainees who use the bus to get to school (weekly or monthly ticket). Also pupils travelling on the exempted school transport service. Pupils can travel as often as they like on all public buses in the district of Bad Kissingen. The student ticket is only valid on presentation of the student's authorisation card. The student card cannot be passed on to other students.

Further information can be found at here

Multilingual information on the use of public transport can be found at here

The leisure buses in the district of Bad Kissingen

Operate from May to October (sometimes all year round).

They run at weekends and on public holidays (sometimes also during the week).

You can take the leisure buses to the highlights of the Bad Kissingen district. You need a valid ticket for the journeys, which you can buy from the bus driver.

Bäderlandbus

The Bäderlandbus takes you through the Bavarian Rhön spa region, between Bad Brückenau and Bad Königshofen. |

Saale valley bus

The Saale valley bus takes you to the most beautiful places and highlights between Hammelburg and Bad Kissingen.

Mobility App "WOHIN DU WILLST"

With the mobility app "Wohin-Du-Willst" you can find all transport connections in the district of Bad Kissingen quickly and easily. The app helps you to digitally plan your personal travel route in the district. Bus and train connections to other regions can also be easily displayed. You can book rides via an interface to Blablacar. In "Wohin-Du-Willst" you are also shown the fares and can book call buses.

You will also find information on fares and on the citizens' buses.

The app is free of charge. You can choose between nine different languages. After installation, select "Landkreis Bad Kissingen" as the region and off you go.

>>Here you can get to the app.

Bicycles

Buying a bicycle makes sense for traveling shorter distances and also as a leisure activity.

Traffic regulations must be respected, as otherwise the police can impose a fine. In addition, the bicycle must be safe and roadworthy.

Important road rules for cyclists (excerpt):

- Always cycle on the right-hand side of the road
- Do not cycle side by side, but one behind the other
- If there is a cycle path, you must ride along the cycle path (only on the right side of the road in the direction of travel)
- Only children up to 11 years old are allowed to cycle on footpaths
- It is forbidden to cycle while using a mobile phone.

Housing

Housing benefits

If you and the people you live with in the household don't make a lot of money, you can get a subsidised property. You need an accommodation entitlement certificate to be eligible for this. Under certain conditions, you are also entitled to housing benefits. If you get money from the state for yourself and your family, you usually do not have to apply for a housing allowance.

Moving into your own home

As soon as you have a residence permit, you are usually obliged to move out of your community accommodation/decentralised accommodation. You need to pay a fee for further accommodation.

You will need to find your own place to live. If you don't have a job and thus aren't earning money, the »»Job Centre will pay your rent. But it will only do this if you need help paying your rent and the rent is no higher than a predefined amount.

Important: Once you have found an apartment, and are receiving benefits from the Job Centre, you must not sign the lease immediately. The Job Centre must check and approve the lease before you sign it.

The tenancy agreement must include the following points:

- "Cold" monthly rent: The rental costs for the living space per month, excluding service and utility costs such as heating
- Additional costs: this includes operating costs like stairwell cleaning, waste collection charges, janitorial costs, cable connection, etc.
- Heating costs: Costs for heating and hot water

(Please note: you always have to pay electricity and heating costs yourself! For this reason, pay particular attention to how much electricity/heat you consume.)

- Size of apartment, number of rooms, address, landlord

Many landlords also require »»personal liability insurance.

Please remember to re-register – in other words, you need to register your new address (in person) at the Residents' Registration Office (Einwohneramt).

Security deposit

The deposit is a security payment for the landlord. The amount for the deposit is a maximum of 3 months' rent. When you move out of the property, you get the money back.

Qualifying as a renter

Volunteer Coordination offers courses on “Qualifying as a renter – Ready for your own apartment” for refugees. In this course, you will learn about your rights and duties as a renter, as well as gain skills in communicating with landlords independently and applying for a flat.

More information is available from »»Volunteer Coordination \(Ehrenamtskoordination\).

House regulations

House regulations list specific rules about living together with others. They apply to anyone who lives in communal accommodation or in a flat.

The most important ones are:

- Noise: Everyone living in the building is responsible for keeping noise levels low as much as possible. You need to be particularly attentive to this between 1:00 and 3:00 PM and between 10:00 PM and 6:00 AM – these are the “quiet hours” (Ruhezeit). On Sundays and public holidays, quiet hours last the entire day.
- Waste disposal: Waste must be disposed of in the designated bin. There are different bins for plastic, paper and cardboard, fruit and vegetables (organic waste) and other waste. Please adhere to the waste separation rules, because the majority of rubbish is recycled and this is important for protecting the environment.

You can find a multilingual overview of which types of waste belong in which bins in the »»Recycling flyer.

- Ventilation: You should open the windows frequently to let in fresh air. This prevents mould from forming, for example.

Private personal liability insurance

The most important insurance for you and your family is a private personal liability insurance. You will need this from the beginning in Germany!

In principle, you must pay for any damage you cause in Germany. This may be minor damage such as, for example, if you scratch a parked car with a bicycle or if your child breaks a window when throwing a ball. However, it also includes damage that is so severe (for example, if you are responsible for causing an accident that injures people) that you have to pay money for the rest of your life.

A private personal liability insurance is used in these instances and pays for any damages. There are insurance policies that can cover your whole family.

If you have caused damages, you must report it within one week of your insurance.

Taxes and tax returns

You must pay tax on your income in Germany. If you are employed, you will receive the net amount of your salary from your employer. This means that your taxes have already been deducted. If you are self-employed, you must pay tax on your income yourself.

Tax identification number

The tax ID is an 11-digit number and is used for income tax purposes. The place of work requires this number. If you do not have this number in your documents, you can ask for it in person at the registration office or in writing at the Federal Tax Office.

Do you need help with your tax return? It is best to contact your local income tax association at . If you have any further questions, the  tax office can also help you.

Current account

A current account is an account for people who want to make payments via the bank. Your money is available in your current account at all times.

With a current account you can:

- Make transfers
- Receive cashless payments (payments from public offices / authorities (social benefits) are often made cashless, i.e. transferred to a personal current account)
- Set up standing orders
- Participate in direct debit procedures
- Cashing cheques, making cashless payments with the EC / Maestro card
- Withdraw cash at bank counters or ATMs
- Print out your account statements

Important: Make sure that you have enough money in your account for all withdrawals and payments.

Tip: Different banks offer current accounts with different conditions. Find out exactly how much a current account costs each month and what services the bank offers in return.

Opening an account:

Decide which bank you would like to have an account with. Make an appointment to open an account. Please bring one of your identification documents with you: Proof of arrival, residence permit, identity card. If no current address is noted on the identification document, please also bring a registration certificate or a comparable document.

Important: If you do not speak German or English, please bring an interpreter with you.

Important information:

- After opening the account, you will receive an EC card with a four-digit PIN code. Sign the back of the EC card and memorise the PIN code. You will need the PIN code for cashless payments and for withdrawing money from ATMs. Be sure to keep your card and PIN code separate!
- If you want to withdraw cash, it is best to use the ATMs of the bank where you have your account. Then the withdrawal costs nothing. If the PIN code is entered incorrectly three times at the ATM, the debit card will be cancelled and blocked. In this case, you must ask your bank.
- If your debit card is lost or stolen, have it blocked immediately. State your sort code and account number. Then ask your bank for a new EC card.
Telephone number: 116 116 (around the clock)

Telephone and Internet

Mobile phone

Mobile phone:

There are basically two different mobile phone contracts in Germany: Prepaid contract and fixed-term contract (fixed contract).

- Prepaid contract:

With a prepaid contract, there is no fixed contract term. There are no regular monthly costs. You decide for yourself when you load new credit onto your mobile phone.

- Fixed-term contract:

A fixed-term contract has a minimum contract term. This is usually 12 or 24 months. The contract is automatically renewed if you do not cancel it on time. With a contract, you receive certain services for a total monthly amount. So pay close attention to the content of the contract when you sign it! Contracts are binding. If you are not sure whether you have understood everything correctly and can pay the running costs over the entire term of the contract, then do not sign a contract (this also applies to all other contracts, e.g. at the gym). Failure to honour a contract can have serious consequences!

We strongly advise against concluding contracts on the Internet! You will not receive personalised advice and often misunderstand the content. Nevertheless, contracts cannot be cancelled!

If in doubt, ask someone for help.

10 important questions for signing a contract:

- How high is the basic fee? Does the fee increase after a certain period of time?
- Is there a minimum monthly turnover?
- How long is the contract for? (e.g. 12 or 24 months)
- If I do not cancel the contract, will it be automatically renewed?
- When do I have to cancel if I don't want to extend the contract?
- How much does it cost to set up, switch and deactivate?
- What is the billing cycle?
- How much does a minute of telephoning cost (external / own network)?
- How much does a mobile phone with a contract cost and how much does a mobile phone without a contract cost?
- How much does the Internet cost?
- How much do international calls cost?

Internet

Asylum seekers in Germany have no legal right to internet in their accommodation. Therefore, there is usually no internet in the accommodation centres. If there is a telephone connection in the accommodation, it is possible for the residents to buy a contract for internet themselves. You will have to pay for this yourself. Talk to the management of your accommodation first and ask whether internet is technically possible at all and how you can give the technician access before signing the contract. The contract has a minimum term (usually 24 months) and you must be able to ensure that you can pay the running costs for the entire term of the contract.

Please note: You may have to move out of your accommodation before the end of the contract period!

Libraries and museums

Libraries

Libraries are places where you can borrow a variety of materials. There's a lot on offer: Books for children, teenagers and adults, learning aids, cassettes, CDs, and DVDs.

In order to borrow something, you need a library card. You need to bring your identification card to the library to get this, and pay a small fee every year.

Materials can be borrowed for 2 or 4 weeks (depending on the medium). After this time has passed, you have to return everything.

Important: If you do not bring the items back in time, you will have to pay high fees!
