

Separation

Väteraufbruch für Kinder, Kreisverein Marburg e.V.

During the separation phase, the association provides advice on how to cope with stressful situations and take the right steps for a vibrant parent-child relationship in the future. One of the most important offers are the counseling evenings for affected fathers.

In regular meetings, those affected can make contacts, talk about their situation and share experiences with each other. This includes, for example:

- solving problems with the parent who may be unwilling to cooperate;
- the exchange of experiences on parenting issues in everyday life, when there is regular contact with the children.

Separation counseling, Pro Familia Marburg e.V.

Partnerships break up - but what happens after that? What should be considered for the well-being of the children? How can a good parental relationship be established without old conflicts burdening it? Pro Familia advises on questions about separation and divorce, provides help with decision-making and basic legal information, and accompanies throughout the chaos of emotions.

In addition, every first Monday of the month there is a consultation hour with family law attorneys. They advise on legal issues related to separation and divorce, such as a joint house, debts, alimony, custody, right of residence, and much more.
